SERVIAN MINISTER IS GIVEN HIS PASSPORTS BY AUSTRIA

Action Taken is Equivalent to a Declaration of War, as Servia Did Not Subscribe to The Hague Conference. Patriotic Demonstrations Continue in Vienna and Large Crowds Gather Before the War Office and Cheer Officials

RUSSIA INFORMS GERMAN MINISTER THAT SHE WILL INTERVENE IF SERVIA IS INVADED

Italy Declares Her Intention to Side With Austria if Trouble Results in War—Rumor of First Encounter Between Forces Reaches Vienna—Servians Fire Upon a Vessel in Danube River Bearing Austrian Infantry—Fire is Returned

London, July 26.—Today's developments appear to furnish new proof that Austria is determined to make war on Servia. The possibilities of a general European war seem greater than ever has before confronted the present generation.

The Servian reply to the Austro-Hungarian ultimatum was an acceptance of almost all the imperious demands, except that Austrian officials shall participate in the investigation and fix the responsibility for the anti-Austrian propoganda. Servia proposed an appeal to the powers at The Hague for the settlement of this feature.

Notwithstanding this humiliation of surrender, which was more than Europe expected of the proud little nation, the Austrian government today gave the Servian minister his passports, which may be construed as a virtual declaration of war.

Austria committed an act of war by arresting the Servian general of staff, General Putnik, near Budapest.

A formal declaration of war is not expected because Servia is not a party to The Hague convention, which requires this.

Iron-clad Censorship.

The suspension of all parliamentary and judicial instances has been decreed in Austria and an iron-clad censorship has drawn a cordon of secrecy around the country.

Even now the Austrian armies may be closing in upon Servia and launching a sudden blow, as Japan did when she sent her fleet against the Russian ships without warning.

While Austria announces a "partial mobilization" the Austrian ambassador at London has issued a significant notice to all Austrians liable for srevice to return home. The only possibility of averting war at the eleventh hour which Austria recognizes is that Servia shall reconsider her reply to the Austrian note and bow to all the demands. Even then Austria proposes to exact payment for all her expenses inconnection with her military measures.

The question as to whether Russia will take up arms to save her Slav protege is the feature on which the peace of Europe hinges. The same degree of secrecy which Austria has imposed has been established in Russia also, therefore it cannot be known what military preparations are in progress there. The Russian government has permitted messages to go forth quoting the St. Petersburg papers as considering intervention inevitable and demanded by the popular sentiment.

Germany has informed the other powers that she considers the Austria-Servian quarrel concerns those nations alone. If any other power takes it up, she declares, serious consequences must follow.

According to the Daily Telegraph, the German ambassadors at the capitals of the triple entente—London, St. Petersburg and Paris—when asked to press their governments to act as a check on Austria, replied simply that they would forward the request.

Germany Would Check Russia.

In return Germany invited the cabinets of London and Paris to do their utmost to keep Russia in check. An official St. Petersburg message says hopes still are entertained there that peace may be preserved.

Patriotic demonstrations continue throughout Austria and the censored messages convey the impression that the people are enthusiastic for war.

The British admiralty issued orders tonight keeping the British fleet on a war footing.

Summary of Reply.

Servia's reply to the Austrian ultimatum is summarized as follows:

First. Servia agrees to the publication in its official journal of the formal declaration by the Austrian government condemning the subversive propaganda and deploring its fatal consequences, regretting the participation of Servian officers in this propaganda, repudiating any further interference with Austro-Hungary in this and warning all Servians that rigorous proceedings will be taken in the future against any persons guilty of such machinitions.

Second. Servia agrees to communicate this declaration to the army in the form of an order of the day.

Third. It promises to dissolve those societies which may be considered capable of conducting intrigues against Austria.

Fourth. Revision of the laws governing the press.

Fifth. Dismissal from the army and navy of officers and the removal also of civilian officials whose participation in an anti-Austrian propoganda may be proved. The Servian government, however, protests against Austrian officials taking part in the inquiry.

Sixth. The Servian government asks for an explanation as to just what part the Austrian officials are to be called upon to take in the inquiry into the Sarayevo plot and it is announced that Servia can only admit such participation as would be in accordance with international law and neighborly relations.

Seventh. To sum up, Servia accepts all conditions and demands of Austria and makes reservations only regarding the participation of Austrian officials in the inquiry. It does not give its formal refusal to this point, but confines itself to asking explanations.

Finally, if the Austrian government finds this reply inadequate Servia appeals to The Hague tribunal and to the powers which signed the declaration of 1909 relative to Bosnia and Herzegovina.

The Servian government, the note continues, "cannot be held responsible for manifestations of a private character such as are common in all lands and escape official control. It expected to be invited to co-operate in the investigation of the Sarayvo outrage and was ready to prove by deeds the earnestness of its action against all persons concerned.

Further on the note says:

"The government condemns all aspirations to detach from the Austro-Hungarian monarchy territories which form a part thereof. It regrets that certain Servian officers and officials, according to the Austrian communication, have participated in these."

War Virtually Declared.

Vienna, July 26.—No declaration of war has been issued and it is believed none will be, since Servia never subscribed to the Hague conference. The sending of his passports to the Servian minister, M. Jouvanovitch, by the Austrian Foreign Office, however, is deemed equivalent to a declaration of war. This action was taken today, the report that the Servian minister had left Vienna yesterday being incorrect. M. Jouvanovitch will leave immediately. In his absence the Russian ambassador will take charge of Servian interests.

There were patriotic demonstrations throughout the day, although a heavy rain fell. Great crowds gathered in front of the War Office and cheered the officers who appeared. Processions filled the streets.

A general mobilization in Montenegro is reported.

Italy has informed Austria that in the event of an armed conflict with Servia she will adopt a friendly attitude in accordance with her relations with the Triple Alliance.

Proclamations have been posted ordering partial mobilization. The Austro-Hungarian bank has raised the bank rate from 4 to 5 per cent. and the committee of the Bourse has decided to close the Bourse Tuesday and Wednesday.

France Holds Back.

The Neu Frec Presse says the Minister of Finance will raise $65,000,000 for the government's immediate requirements and adds that negotiations between the powers for localization of the conflict will continue. It was said by one diplomat today that "France has no intention to expose herself too much on Servia's behalf."

The imperial decree issued yesterday gives the government enormous powers to ensure the secrecy of its measures. The authorities are entitled to open all letters. Only telegrams approved by the censor can be dispatched. Newspapers publishing details of military preparations or movements can be suppressed.

All the railways are guarded by sentries with orders to use their arms on any person who fails to stop when commanded.

The prospect of war is not regarded here as child's play. The Servians put 400,000 men into the field during the Balkan wars. Both officers and men are passionately patriotic. It is expected that Servia will attempt to hold the front along the Danube and the Drina with only a weak force, while

ARREST OF ASSASSIN WHOSE DEED LED TO POSSIBILITY OF WAR IN EUROPE; THE TWO RULERS MOST CONCERNED

ARREST OF PRINZIP ASSASSIN OF ARCHDUKE AND WIFE.

EMPEROR FRANCIS JOSEPH, OF AUSTRIA

KING ALEXANDER OF SERVIA

This illustration includes the first picture to reach America of the actual arrest of Prinzip, the assassin who shot Archduke Francis Ferdinand and his wife to death at Servaiero, Bosnia. The slayer is seen strugging in the hands of his captors, while the populace and soldiers are frantically running in the street. Lattest pictures of Emperor Francis Joseph, the aged ruler of Austria, and of King Alexander of Servia are also shown. The double assassination led to Austria's ultimatum to Servia and the prospect of a general war in Europe.

FAIRFAX HARRISON TO GIVE TESTIMONY

South Atlantic Congressmen Await Result

LAST MOVE A SURPRISE

Southern's Decision to Built Coal Pier at Charleston Shows That Company Ready to Make Concessions, Says Tillman.

Washington, July 26.—Congressmen from the Southeastern Atlantic States tonight were awaiting with much interest the testimony of President Fairfax Harrison, of the Southern Railway, who is to appear tomorrow before the sub-committee of the Senate naval affairs committee which is investigating alleged discrimination of the Southern Railway against ports south of Norfolk in coal rates.

The announcement of N. A. B. Thom, general counsel for the Southern Railway, that the company immediately would construct a coal pier at Charleston, S. C., came as a surprise to the sub-committee Friday and is regarded by Senator Tillman, who instituted the present investigation, as an indication that the Southern Railway is willing to grant concessions.

"The Clinchfield is already building a pier at Charleston," said Senator Tillman. "The Southern has made many promises heretofore. It has been in control of the Virginia coal fields for ten years without affording an outlet at Charleston, but I think the company is sincere in its promise for an immediate outlet. The Southern bought the Magnolia cemetery site for a pier just the day after the Senate passed the resolution for an investigation of Southern coal rates and I think the South is about to enjoy privileges it should have had long ago."

The coal rate from the Virginia coal fields to Charleston is $2.05 a ton for coal to be used locally, and $1.40 a ton for coal which is to be transhipped. This is the same rate that Pennsylvania and West Virginia and Virginia coal consumers enjoy at tidewater in New York, Baltimore, Norfolk and other ports north of Norfolk. Charleston is much nearer than New York to Cuba, which consumes a large amount of coal.

CONGRESSMEN ARE ANXIOUS TO QUIT

Constituents Urge Them to Return Home for Politics

SENATORS NEED A REST

Republican Members of Upper House Announce Their Intention to Rush Trust Legislation—Politics Calling.

Washington, July 26.—Members of Congress are hearing from their constituents, urging them to get through with their legislative business as soon as possible and come home to look after their political fences. This applies to more than thirty of the Senators as well as to the Representatives, for this Fall comes the first general election for United States Senators under the seventeenth constitutional amendment.

Many Republican Senators have signified their intention to rush the delayed trust legislation, most of them explaining publicy that Congress is tired and that statesmen are not in condition to do their best work. "We need a rest" is the declaration of the Republicans; likewise it is the slogan of some of the Democrats. It is an opinion secret, however, that behind the desirde for rest, it is a desire on the part of Republican Senators as well as the Democrats to doff the toga for campaign togs.

There will be little rest ahead even when Congress does adjourn, for the folks back home already are calling for help in the political battles that are coming.

Politics Calling All.

Such Republican leaders as Senators Smoot, Gallinger and Cummins, all of them vitally interested in trust legislation, are also interested in their own campaigns. The popular election of Senators is a new thing for them and they believe that it will be well to get on the home ground early. Hence they intend to prevent filibustering against trust legislation, and Republicans generally believe that the debate will be a straightforward one from now until the three bills are passed.

Discussion of the interstate trade commission bill will be resumed tomorrow. Democratic leaders hope that it may be passed within the next ten days. Such a rate they believe would be progressing well toward completion of the legislative program early in September. That is the time that most administrations leaders now are setting for adjournment, it being practically settled that there will be no more important legislation after trust bills and apropriation measures are disposed of. When the trust bill go to conference there may be an effort made to consolidate them into one and that might requite a little more than is now being figured on.

The only serious problem ahead is that of keeping a quorum and the Democrats must see to it if the Demo-

TWO NEW PLAGUE CASES ARE FOUND

Conditions in New Orleans Do Not Improve

BOTH VICTIMS NEGROES

Three Infected Rats Captured on the Water Front Yesterday—Eight Thousand Five Hundred Rodents Caught in Week.

New Orleans, July 26.—Two cases of bubonic plague were reported here today by Dr. W. C. Rucker, in charge of plague eradication work, making a total of 13 since the contagion appeared a month ago.

Rosie Southern, aged 15, a negro girl, and Joseph E. Williams, aged 24, a negro, developed the malady today. The girl was taken ill on July 22 and Williams on July 23. The former lived without and the latter within the original focus of infection.

Of the thirteen cases reported to date seven have been discovered in the past eight days. One death occurred last week, bringing the total number of deaths to four. None of the patients has been discharged, although three of them are believed to be out of danger.

Dr. Rucker announced today that Passed Assistant Surgeon Hugh de Valin, who arrived this morning from Washington, had been placed in charge of the fourth sanitary district.

The work of exterminating rats is being intensified in special districts, all of which are adjacent to the river front. The rat catch for the past week according to official figures given out today was 8,500. Three infected rats were reported today.

The first case of plague was reported here June 27.

DANIELS ORDERS REFORM IN NAVY REGULATIONS.

Abolition of Imprisonment for Desertion is One of Features.

Washington, July 26.—Abolition of imprisonment for desertion from the navy in times of peace was ordered today by Secretary of the Navy Daniels. Bluejackets who overstay their leave or commit similar breaches of discipline will be dismissed summarily instead of being sent to prison, while men who become dissatisfied and want to quit may have an honorable discharge by merely refunding certain enlistment allowances. This reform has been under consideration by the secretary since he came into office. He announced today that the navy now had practically a full quota 51,348 enlisted men, compared with a shortage of more than 4,000 eighteen months ago, and that the time to take the step had come.

TROUBLE AGAIN BREAKS OUT IN ULSTER COUNTY

CAILLAUX TRIAL A REMARKABLE ONE

Parisians Looked Upon It as Daily Melodrama

TWO DUELS SCHEDULED

President of Court and One of His Colleagues on Bench Will Cross Swords As Result of Remark Made in Court.

Paris, July 26.—Parisians look upon the trial of Mme. Hnriette Caillaux, for the killing of Gaston Calmette, as a daily melodrama. There have been mysterious diplomatic papers and elusive photographed love letters to give mystery to the case.

Two women have striven against each other—Mme. Caillaux, who thrilled the court room with a confession of her emotions before she shot Calmette, and Mme. Gueydan, who moved her hearers stil more strongly by the tragic testimony of a deserted wife.

Joseph Caillaux, former premier, now leader of the radical groups which govern the republic, sprang at once to the defense of his wife, and has been confronted by another former premier, Louis Barthou.

Remarkable things have occurred at this trial, not the least being the threatened duel between the president of the court, Judge Louis Albane, and one of the other judges, Louis Dagoury. The duel awaits the decision of the minister of justice; meanwhile the judges pass each other scornfully. M. Caillaux called the counsel for the Calmette family to terms for a suggestion made in the court room and people are now wondering whether the ex-premier and M. Chenu, who declared that he was not to be menaced, also will meet at the sword's point.

Germany Suggested.

A heated suggestion of Germany was brought into court. M. Calmette had charged M. Caillaux with having betrayed French interests in the Morrocan affair, and M. Caillaux told the jury that the Figaro, of which Calmette was the editor, that Calmette had been the instrument of France's enemies in causing discord to the French capitol.

"It is only letting cats out of transparent bags," the monarchists say. "We knew it all before, but now the squalling of the cats make everybody look."

High finance has had its place in the proceedings through the insistence of Caillaux's radical partisans that it was his pressing of the income tax that caused influential interests to use Calmette to break Caillaux in public esteem.

There is a cynical disposition in Paris to take the trial lightly, as something pre-arranged. The aged empress Eugenie, at a dinner party of imperialists, having listened to much talk about how the ministers and their wives lived and how the stage was set for the acquittal of Mme. Caillaux, rebuked the gossipers by saying:

"No, I cannot imagine that the judges of France will act otherwise than according to their intellects and consciences."

The impression around the palace of justice, quite without the suggestion of improper influences, is that Mme. Caillaux will be acquitted or receive a short suspended sentence.

CARRANZA AGAINST A FORMAL AMNESTY YET

Is Disposed to Wait Until He is Fully in Charge

John R. Silliman, Personal Representative of President Wilson, With Carranza Doubts Rebel Chief's Intentions.

Washington, July 26.—Advices that General Carranza is not disposed to grant a formal amnesty in advance of his actual assumption of power reached Washington today from Constitutionalist headquarters. This, if insisted upon, may disrupt proposed peace conferences in Mexico at the beginning.

Provisional President Carbajal has been urged generally to obtain an amnesty and numerous offers have been made to him for support in case he cannot obtain proper guarantees for the lives and property of Huerta supporters.

Informal assurances came recently to the United States from Carranza that, excepting for those directly responsible for the murder of Madero and Suarez, he would not prosecute supporters of Huerta. Within the last few days, however, John R. Silliman, personal representative of President Wilson, with Carranza, has reported his doubts on the subject.

Carranza has told Silliman that amnesty was an act of generosity not an act of surrender. He insists that

GOVERNMENT TO AID IN MOVING OF CROPS

Wilmington Will Get Slice of Federal Loan

Secretary of the Treasury Announces That He is Ready to Deal Out Thirty-Four Million Dollars to Aid the Farmers.

Washington, July 26.—Money from the Federal Treasury will be deposited in National banks throughout the country again this Fall to facilitate the movement of crops and promote business generally. Secretary McAdoo announced tonight he would put out approximately $34,000,000, and that he stood ready to increase the amount to any extent to meet the country's needs.

The Secretary's estimate of what will be needed is based on replies from five thousand National banks to a recent Treasury Department circular asking whether any unusual demand for money was expected this year, and for what purposes. Last year the department inaugurated the custom of distributing funds in the crop-handling centers, depositing about $35,000,000 of the $50,000,000 Secretary McAdoo had decided to use for the purpose.

A statement from the department tonight said:

"These replies (from the National banks) fully confirm optimistic bulletins of the Agricultural Department as to prospects for unusually large crops. They also indicate a decided promise

Three Men and One Woman Killed and Sixty Others Are Wounded

SOLDIERS FIRE ON MOB

Nationalist Volunteers Smuggle in 10,000 Rifles

SEVEN EXPECTED TO DIE

Excited Crowds Fill Streets Last Night Some of Them Carrying Rifles—Soldiers Confined to Barracks to Prevent Trouble.

Dublin, July 26.—Three men and one woman are dead and more than 60 persons are in the hospital, wounded, as the result of a battallion of the Kings Own Scottish Borderers late today firing on a mob on the streets of Dublin. Seven of the wounded are expected to die. Among them are three women and a boy of ten.

The affray was the result of a gun-running exploit of the Nationalist volunteers, aided by a mob composed largely of women and youths. A consignment of rifles said to number 10,000, was landed last night at Howth, nine miles from Dublin, from a private yacht. The Nationalist volunteers cut the telegraph wires and stopped travel on the Dublin roads and according to reports, sent away most of the rifles, together with 70,000 rounds of ammunition in motor cars.

A battallion of the King's Own Scottish Borderers was ordered to capture the arms today when the authorities heard the volunteers were bringing them into the city. The soldiers encountered a detachment of volunteers at Clonmell Bridge. Soon a great crowd collected and followed the troops jeering them and cheering for John Redmond and home rule.

Throw Bottles and Stones.

Finally the mob began throwing bottles and stones, injuring several soldiers. To the attack the battallion replied with a scattered fusillade. In an instant the street was covered with wounded, while terrified men, women and children ran in all directions.

St. Juras Hospital is located only 200 yards from the scene of the affray and the wounded were quickly taken there, where four of them died. The soldiers and police seized a hundred rifles from the volunteers.

Excited crowds filled the streets of Dublin tonight, some of the men carrying rifles. The Borderers are confined to barracks to prevent the people from attacking them. A street car in which a soldier was ridding was wrecked tonight but the soldier escaped. Further rioting is feared.

Among these seriously wounded in the affray is M. J. Judge, a prominent officer of the Nationalist volunteers.

Arms Landed at Noon.

The arms were landed at noon today, instead of last night as first reported. A thousand volunteers marched openly from Dublin to receive the arms. After local police and the coast guards, who tried to prevent the landing were driven off the Dublin authorities sent sixty police to make a seizure. They later were reinforced by 200 others. When the volunteers saw the mobilization most of them scattered through the fields. The police and soldiers tried to disarm the remainder.

In the resulting affray revolver shots were fired by volunteers and a corpo-

Mobile Holds Lead In Southern League

New Orleans Advances to Second Place Through Consistent Playing—Good Form Displayed.

Atlanta, Ga., July 26.—By winning six of the eight games played Mobile increased its lead over all clubs in the Southern Association during the week just closed, while New Orleans, by winning four of its six, advanced from fifth place to second. Birmingham moved up to third, a few points ahead of Chattanooga, which leads Atlanta by a smaller margin. Nashville, Memphis and Montgomery continued to bring up the rear of the procession as they did a week ago.

Good playing form was shown by many of the clubs. Mobile's two defeats were shutouts, 1 to 0 and 2 to 0, but the team held to its winning stride and increased its percentage lead approximately fifteen points. New Orleans has no decided advantage over Birmingham, the former having won 52 and lost 44 games, while the latter took 53 and lost 45. Chattanooga and Atlanta are almost as close together. The loss, therefore, of a few games this week will make important changes in association standing. As these figures do not include todays, officials and players are counting on a new alignment within the next few days.

THE COTTON SITUATION.

Texas Weather Conditions Are Still the Dominant Factor Throughout the Belt.

New York, July 25.—The most critical period in cotton growth is here, and for that reason day-to-day weather conditions take precedence over all other price-making factors. Texas continues to be an uncertain element in the crop situation and there has been some attempt to use the high temperatures recently prevailing in that State and in Oklahoma as a basis for a crop scare, but this has met with only a moderate response marketwise.

Excessive heat may be somewhat of a drawback if continued for any great length of time without further precipitation, especially over the areas where cotton was planted late, but as a general proposition hot, dry weather is exactly what cotton needs at this season, and in view of the fact that there is a superabundance of sub-soil moisture lack of rain in the Southwest for sometime yet cannot be considered as serious. If for no other reason, the present hot weather is helpful to the best plant development in that it retards the progress of the boll weevil, an insect which cannot thrive under warm, dry climatic conditions. It seems fairly safe to assume, then, that since the beginning of July the crop has steadily improved, and, as a whole, is now in splendid condition. This is especially encouraging for the reason that even the government expects, and in all its deductions makes allowance for, deterioration during the month of July.

Unquestionably, the start of the crop this year was late, but the excellent soil conditions, together with adequate moisture and favorable temperatures for practically two months past, have done much towards overcoming the early drawback, and, from the present outlook, assuming that weather conditions are normal from now on, a crop of bountiful proportions ought to be harvested. From a market standpoint trade conditions are being given little consideration, but so far as can be ascertained there is nothing helpful to prices in either the foreign or domestic situation. At home the cotton goods market is dull, with buyers acquiring only small lots.

Heavy goods are being quoted at cost or below, while yarn stocks are plentiful, the demand being spasmodic and unsatisfactory. Trade advices from Lancashire and the continent are still of the gloomiest import and it is said that spinners show no inclination whatever to enter the market. On the contrary, those well informed are of the opinion that there will be no revival in trade buying until better business is assured, as mills are well supplied with medium and low grade cotton for all their needs for some time to come. There is, however, a scarcity of better grades, but it is extremely unlikely that there will be any heavy buying of new crop options, which at the prevailing prices allow practically no margin of profit to the manufacturer.

Marketwise, a rather narrow price range is about all that can be expected until after the next government report, which is due on the last day of the month. If the drought in Texas continues until actual damage in that State appears inevitable an upturn of moderate proportions might be expected; lacking this, however, present prices appear high.

New Rector of St. Mark's.

St. Mark's colored Episcopal church, Sixth and Grace streets, yesterday had the pleasure of listening to their newly elected rector, Rev. S. N. Griffith, who held his first services in the church at 11 A. M. and 8 A. M. He impressed his hearers as a man of great earnestness and sympathy. He finished a post-graduate course at the General Theological Seminary of New York City in May and on the 9th of the present month was advanced to the priesthood in the Cathedral of St. John The Divine. He has been cordially welcomed to his new parish.

Red McGhee says:

To start with, Jack, y'u big moose smoke, my love fer you don't make me choke, ner keep me up o' nights. But, yellah, brown or white or black, the other fighters holds the sack when you gets up an' fights.

You've pulled some stuff what ain't just nice, but that ain't gonna cut no ice when you gets in the ring. So far we hands it to you, see. Your wallop when you set it free makes dubs hear birdies sing.

But, listen, ol' schwarz-top, our hunch is this: You're gonna need yer punch 'fore long to keep yer rep. A bunch o' battlers here at home 're out t' swat your shiny dome an' they've got oits o' pep. Some one may spill this expert dope that he's a false-alarm white hope, an' bust yer beezer in. He'll spoil yer appetite fer lunch if he c'n land his two-ton punch—put red spots on yer skin.

Moran may take from one t' ten? We'll grant you that, ol' choc, but then he's not playin' solitaire. The bleached hope crop is comin' fine. You'll find a lot of 'em to sign. Jeff Willard thinks he's there. I know some bettin' guys who'd pick ol' Gunboat Smith t' turn the trick. Go on, play out yer hand. But take my tip, ol' KingJim Crow, some husky, white-propelle C. S. O. is just about t' land.

GOVERNMENT AFFAIRS PREVAIL IN MARKET

Foreign and Domestic Matters Break Into Exchange With Bad Results

New York, July 26.—Governmental affairs foreign and domestic, prevailed over other influences in last weeks stock market. Circumstantial reports alleging that an unfavorable decision in the eastern freight rate case will be rendered caused weakness. The New Haven suit, rumors of an official inquiry into Rock Island affairs, steps to push trust legislation and failure to confirm the remaining members of the Federal reserve board were marshalled as related factors.

The Servian crisis confirmed indications of foreign strain long in evidence, such as presistend liquidation of our securities, withdrowal of gold in their payment and huge accumulations of gold in the reservoirs of government banks. These financial preparations appeared to imply a safeguard against war. Their depressing influence was aggravated by uneasiness in London over the Ulster situation.

Abandonment of the Rock Island reorganization and the commerce board's strictures in the New Haven report brought further preasure from foreign holders of American securities. The same was true of Union Pacific's distribution of Baltimore and Ohio. Questions of maintenance hurt special stock, notably those likely to be affected by the rate decision.

The abundant wheat outgo gave impressive evidence of our abundance and other's needs.

GIANTS AND ATHLETICS STRIKE OLD-TIME GAIT

Last Year's Pennant Winners Playing Consistent Ball

Chicago and St. Louis in Nationals, However, Are to Be Reckoned With—Boston Comes to Second Place in American.

New York, July 26.—The two world's series contenders of last year struck their strides in the week just closed. The New York Nationals breezed through with five games won and none lost. The Philadelphia Americans went one better, scoring six victories, meeting no reverses and running their first sustained winning streak to ten straight.

The work of the Athletics and setbacks for four teams that were pressing them closely less than a month ago, has resulted in a lead for the Mackmn that the trailing clubs will find it hard to overcome. The National League team situation, however, is materially different.

Playing nearly as consistent ball as in their palmiest days, the Chicago Cubs have kept the National League race at a pitch of tense interest. The last fortnight's record showed O'Day's men have won ten games and lost two, as against nine victories and three defeats for New York. The result is that a bare two and a half games separate the Cubs from the league champions.

St. Louis is not to be left out of the calculation. Huggins' men had won seven straight games up to Saturday, when Philadelphia downed them, and are playing consistently. Neither Giants nor Cubs can afford to slump with the Cardinals five and a half games from the top. Boston's spurt from the cellar to fourth place within less than a week, has been a notable feature of th leagu race.

Washington Broke Even.

Pennant aspirations of several clubs were further blighted in the American League during the week.

Washington broke even on the wek's play, but pushed Chicago farther away by beating Callahan's team two in the three games.

New York proved a block for all the Western visitors, none of them taking a series in a city where notable percentage gains had been counted upon. Boston's recent climb has caused the Red Sox to be picked up by osme as the most likely rivals of the Athletics in the home stretch. They jumped from fourth to second place during the week and started their Western trip auspiciously by taking two in succession from Cleveland. This gave them ten straight wins.

The week's record of games played, won and lost, with runs, hits, errors and left on bases, follows:

JUNIORS HOLD DISTRICT MEETING AT MOUNT OLIVE

Interesting Programme of Exercises Carried Out Thursday Night.

(Special Star Correspondence.)
Mount Olive, July 26.—District Council, No. 6, Jr. O. U. A. M., convened here in annual session with Mount Olive Council, No. 103, Thursday afternoon. The local council also celebrated its 11th anniversary at the same time, and quite an elaborate programme for the event had been planned.

There was in the early afternoon a business meeting of the various councils composing this district, reports from which showed a healthy condition in each of the various councils and most satisfactory progress along the various lines of work to which this order is committeed.

This was followed by an open session in the opera house at 8:30 P. M., to which the public was invited, and where the following most splendid programme was carried out:

Opening ode, by the Councils.
Opening prayer, by Dr. W. B. Oliver, pastor of the Baptist church.
Address of Welcome, Rev. J. H. Frizelle, of the Methodist church.
Response, J. E. Spears, Sixth District Deputy.
"Our Anniversary," B. F. Sasser, of the local Council.
"Problems Being Solved and to be Solved," Rev. D. W. Arnold, of the Goldsboro Council.
"Our Flag," M. H. Allen, of the Goldsboro Council, and prominent member of the Goldsboro bar.
"Virtue, Liberty and Patriotism," R. G. Maxwell, Kinston Council.
"Our Order," J. W. Sechrist, State Councilor, of High Point.
Closing ode by the Councils anr benediction by Rev. D. W. Arnold.

One of the most noteworthy features of the entire event was the banquet, given by the local council for the benefit of the visiting Juniors, consisting of a feast of appetizing eatables of various courses.

REPORT OF INTRASTATE RATES EXPECTED ANY TIME

Believed That New Schedule Will be Reported, Justice Bates.

(Special Star Correspondence)
Raleigh, N. C., July 26.—The report of the special commission to investigate the reasonableness of the intrastate freight rates Prescribed in the Justice act and determine just what the schedule of rates shall be if the Justice rates are not found to be reasonable and fair, is expected to be filed with Governor Craig and the Corporation Commission most any day now. In fact, the commission, Judge Justice chairman, was expected to have filed the report Saturday, and since Governor Craig has only extended the time for the Justice schedule or whatever schedule the special commission substitutes for it to be effective to August 10, something will certainly be done at once.

There is a general impressin here that the special commission will report an entirely new schedule of rates considerably higher that those prescribed in the Justice act, which made reductions averaging 24 per cent. of the present rates. There is a report here that Seaboard Air Line, at least, will not accept any material reductions from the present rates.

However, there are those in close touch with the situation who beleive that the railroads will accept the ruling that the special commission will made, their idea being that the commission will declare rates very much nearer the present rates than the rates in the Justice act being passed upon.

INTENSE INTEREST AROUSED.

By Publication of Story of Child on the Wilson Chain Gang.

(Special Star Correspondence.)
Wilson, N. C., July 26.—Intense interest was aroused here by the publication of the story of Robert Carlton, the boy, 13 years old, found working on the chain gang in the county, having been sent up because of non-payment of a fine of $4.50 and costs. The boy worked five weeks before his story became known.

A number of citizens here yesterday expressed their willingness to have paid the fine, if information of the case had come to them. The boy had a gentle, manly appearance, when brought here from the gang. His hands were calloused and hardened from the work on the roads. He was sentenced in the Mayor's Court at Lucama, having been seen beating his way on a freight train. In the sheriff's office he wept bitterly as he told his story.

THEATRICAL

Big Bijou Bill.

Today's bill at the big, cool Bijou is another of the "great big" variety that the management of this popular photo-playhouse have been offering to the Wilmington public.

"Prowlers of the Wild," a 101 Bison, two-reel drama, featuring that loveable little actress Anna Little, in a quick action jungle story that can only be appreciated by being seen. Anna is in love with the son of the man whom her father works for, and, in turn, is secretly loved by a dishonest trapping post foreman, and determines to win her for himself by fair means or foul. Anna and Essie, her blind sister, are left at the post while their father and the rest of the party are lion hunting. Landers, the foreman, having been discharged by the "boss," trades guns to the Kaffirs for ivory and later causes them to rise against the white men. Anna escapes from the natives only to find herself a prisoner of the foreman. He tried to kill her, but she manages to get his knife away from him and escapes. There is a thrill in every foot of the two big reels and if you do not see it, it will certainly be your loss.

Another great two-reel drama on today's programme is "The Social Ghost," a Kay-Bee feature in two reels, portraying a dead love restored to life by two children and a dog, all three of whom take part in an accident where the dog rescues the little girl from a large pool in the park. See for yourself how a mistreated wife, who left her husband, is restored to his affection twelve years after.

The latest current events as caught by the camera of the "Animated Weekly," will complete this gigantic show.

The Week at Grand.

The starriest week in the history of Wilmington "movies" promises the alert, enterprising Grand management in this week's superb offerings at this handsome, cool theatre, and, by the way, the solid comfort of the Grand is a big feature. The films for the present week are many and of the highest grade. Everything delightful and nothing but what is wholesome. Thursday will be "Extraordinary Feature Day" at the Grand, when Martha Williams and the Famous Players Company under management of Mr. Charles Frohman will appear in the big New York dramatic hit, "The Brute." Make a note of this in your memory.

Heading today's great inaugural bill is a side-splitting 2-reeler, Edison's "When the Men Left Town," and it is an up-to-date laugh-fest, as it deals with the woman suffrage question. The queen of comedy, Mrs. C. Jay Williams, appears in the stellar role, supported among others by Elsie McLeod, Lizzie Conway, Arthur Housman and William Wadsworth.

"Reaping the Whirlwind" is another great one today, and in this swell Kalem success will be seen charming, pretty Ruth Roland, a big "movie" favorite.

The latest Hearst-Selig Pictorial Review will also be flashed on the screen today, giving a liberal education and big entertainment by showing animated current events. Then there will be a great scenic and spectacular film in "A Trip to Mt. Love." This is a masterpiece of photography and should not be missed. Be in on today's Grand bill.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON DULL DURING WEEK.

But Rains in Texas Give Activity to Trading in Last Part.

New Orleans, July 26.—The cotton market last week was a quiet affair right up to the closing session when sudden activity developed on the rains in Texas and the unsettled political outlook abroad. The net change in prices for the week was a loss of one point to a gain. During the greater part of the week the market was sustained by the drought in Texas and Oklahoma.

Statistics were against the market and caused moderate selling. The small mill takings and the large visible supply for this time of the year resulted in much bearish comment.

This week the trade will be concerned chiefly with the effect of recent rains in Texas, and the condition report to be issued by the government on Friday. As sentiment now stands the trade does not look for any great chang from last month's figures of 179.6 per cent. of the normal.

NEW RAILROAD FOR ONSLOW

Plan Meeting With Heartiest Co-Operation From Different Towns Throughout The County.

(Special Star Correspondence)

Newbern, N. C., July 26.—The contemplated construction of a new railroad in Onslow county, entering that section from the Westerin part of the State, is meeting with the general approval of the citizens there and there is every reason to believe that this line will be built. Last Saturday the towns of Swansboro, Richlands and Jacksonville voted bond issue for the purpose of assisting in defraying the expenses of the construction of this road and other towns and districts in the county are expected to fall in line. Onslow county is one of the most fertile sections in the State and there are great undeveloped resources there which the opening of a new railroad will bring to light and assist in developing. At present the Atlantic Coast Line goes through a section of the county. This road does an excellent business and is getting a large amount of patronage. However there is room and to spare for another road and in fact the people of that county say that they need it. Citizens of Onslow county take the view that where there is competition there is always better service and while the Atlantic Coast Line Railway Company is now giving the county excellent service, the citizens believe that with two roads in operation that they can get still better service. In addition to this, the new road wil enter a territory which has heretofore been practically undeveloped. In addition to being heavily timbered, a section of the land through which the new road is to pass is also fully developed and in fact some of the best farming land in the Eastern party of North Carolina is to be found there. Several towns are to vote on the question of bond issues during the next few days and it is the general belief that these will carry.

DEPUTY SHERIFF SHOOTS AND KILLS DESPERATE NEGRO

Temperature at Lumberton Again Goes to 106 After a Cool Night.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Lumberton, N. C., July 26.—At an early hour this morning Deputy Sheriff J. A. Kitchin shot and instantly killed James Davis, colored, in the western part of the county. Davis had been terrorizing the colored people in the community during the night and when the officer went to arrest him this morning the negro pulled a gun, but the officer shot first, saving his own life. The verdict of the coroner's jury was that the officer shot in self-defense and was justified.

Deputy Barber arrived from Brunswick ocunty this morning, where on yesterday he arrested Jenrette Faircloth, who stands charged with being a blockade. Faircloth belongs in the Howellsville section of this county, but has been evading the officers for several months. His reputation is anything but good.

After falling to 69, last night, the mercury went up to 106 at the weather station here again today.

Forest fires are doing immense damage in different sections of the county.

TRAVELING MAN LEAVES YOUNG SON IN GREENSBORO.

S. T. Morris Wishes to Know Whereabouts of Chas. C. Albright.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Greensboro, N. C., July 26.—S. T. Morris, of this city, is anxious to learn the whereabouts of Charles C. Albright, formerly a traveling salesman located here. Albright left his thirteen-year-old son with Mr. Morris to board while Albright was traveling. This was several months ago. Once since that time he met Albright on the street and he paid Mr. Morris $25 on account. Since that time he has seen nothing of him, and cannot get any information as to where he has gone. He has asked the authorities what to do with the child, and they advise him to send the boy to the county home. Mr. Morris is averse to doing this.

The funeral of Mr. C. H. Stokes, who died suddenly yesterday, was held this morning at 9 o'clock at the family home on Mendenhall street. Rev. R. Murphy Williams conducted the service. The body was carried to Reidsville and interment took place there today. The pallbearrs were W. C. McLean, J. M. Hendrix, J. G. Foushee, Jr., Neil Ellington, E. D. Kuykendall and E. J. Davis. The dceeased had lived here for several yars, coming to Greensboro from his large farm near Ruffin after the dath of his wife. He is survived by six children, four daughters, Misses Marion, Florence, Alice and Bessie, and two sons, Walton and Broughton Stokes. He was a splendid Christian man and a member of the Reidsville Presbyterian church.

The city librarian today hung in an appropriate place on the walls of the Carnegie library a copy of the Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence. The copy was presented to the city commissioners by Prof. Alex Graham, of Charlotte, at the request of Miss Violet G. Alexander, also of that city. The Declaration is handsomely printed on a white card in black script with a gray background. Mayor Pro Tem. Foushee will write Miss Alexander a letter of thanks for the gift.

ATTEMPTED TO CROSS TRACK AHEAD OF TRAIN.

J. B. Carpenter Dies of Injuries Received Near Durham.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., July 26.—James B. Carpenter died at Rex Hospital here this morning from injuries sustained last night by being struck by Norfolk Southern train No. 1 three miles from Durham as the train was en route to Raleigh. Mr. Carpenter was driving a pair of mules hitched to a wagon. When first brought to the hospital there was thought to be some hope for the recovery of Carpenter but in spite of all that could be done he sank steadily until death occurred about 5:30 o'clock this morning. The body is being held at the undertaking establishment of H. J. Brown Company, awaiting any instructions from the Carpente family in Wilson county.

Passengers and trainmen who saw the fatal accident last night say that as Carpenter drove toward the crossing ahead of the train and the engineer tooted the whistle as a warning, the pair of mules Carpenter was driving seemed to have made a dash for the railroad track, Carpenter, probably attempting to get across ahead of the train. It was impossible for the train to slow down in time to avrt the accident. The wagon was demolished but the mules were uninjurd.

WILL SHORTEN WATER ROUTE

Treacherous Inlet Connecting Core Sound With Waters to the North Is to Be Dredged.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kinston, N. C., July 26.—The deepening of "The Thoroughfare," a narrow and treacherous inlet connecting Core Sound with the waters to the north, will give a shorter route to small craft from Cartaret county points to Pamlico Sound. The board of army engineers has favorably reported a proposal to expend $5,200 on the dredging. A channel five feet deep and 50 feet wide will be dug the length of "The Thoroughfare," and much of the water traffic which is now required to make a circuit of the headland of Carteret county will be diverted through the shorter route, and great quantities of the famous watermelons of the region and other produce will find a way to market quicker. "The Thoroughfare" is an unusual bit of water, shoaly and difficult of navigation at present, but when the barriers to ships' passage have been removed, at a cost comparatively insignificant, it will become a popular route. The cost of maintenance will be only $300 a year.

The City Council has decided to accept private bids for the sale of $100,000 of municipal bonds voted in June for sewerage, lighting and paving improve. When council met to receive bids for which advertisement had been made, only four were presented, and all were immediately rejected. All offered as much as part, but attorneys' fees and other expenses attached would have made the sale for less than par. Council decided that the offers were not in keeping with the good conditions in the market at present ,and authorized the mayor and clerk to receive private offers.

Prosecutions may follow violations of the stock quarantine law in Lenoir county by farmers of Jones and Duplin counties. In four instances recently cattle allowed to stray in the latter counties crossed into this county, where the Federal government and State are maintaining a tick eradication quarantine. Agents of the Bureau of Animal Industry will probably ask the solicitor to take steps to bring the owners of the offending cattle into court. In one of the counties the negligent planters were guilty of violation of the fence law, and may be brought to trial on that complaint. The men conducting the eradication campaign here contend that a part of their work already accomplished may be undone if animals infested with the tick are permitted to roam into the quarantined territory.

LOST BARN OF TOBACCO.

Fire Destroys Big Barn Near Whiteville Saturday Night.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Whiteville, N. C., July 26.—Mr. D H. Cook, a prosperous farmer living near here, had the misfortune of losing his tobacco barn last night about 12 o'clock.

The loss is estimated at $200 or $300 dollars. Mr. Cook had just finished curing his barn and had gone to the house and retired, when the fire occurred

WILSON POLICE OFFICERS HAVE STRENUOUS SUNDAY.

Score or More of Persons Arrested on One Charge or Another.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Wilson, N. C., July 26.—Notwithstanding the fact that it was Sunday and also an extremely hot day, Wilson police officers have had a strenuous day. Last night a negro man, Ed Crudup, attacked his wife on one of the leading residence streets and beat her unmercifully. The screams of the woman and of a child with her alarmed the people for several blocks and a crowd collected. Before the police reached the scene the man disappeared and the officers did not locate him until early this morning when he was seen passing the home of Mr. J. D. Gold. Three policemen on bicycles went after him and the chase resulted in his arrest.

A little later in the morning, Chief Wiggs with several officers caught eight men in a crap game, arrested the men and seized the money.

Several hours later Chief Wiggs with a posse rounded up another crap game, this time about twenty-five negro men in the party. They made a break for the woods and the fire of the officers was returned. After a chase of some time, and the interchange of a number of shots ten of the men were arrested.

Here in town some time Saturday night, a white man was dangerously cut in the red light district and this afternoon a negro shooting scrape in the east resulted in one man being seriously injured. The assailent escaped.

COMPANY SHOOTS MULE RATHER THAN PAY DAMAGES

Negro Kicked by Vicious Animal Issues Ultimatum on Lumber Co.

(Special Star Correspondence)

Newbern, N. C., July 26.—"You shoot dat mule or else I'se gwinter sue you fer damages" was the ultimatum that a negro employe served on a well known local lumber compa here yesterday. Investigation proved that the darkey had a good case and perferring to lose a mean mule rather than several hundred dollars the company ordered her shot.

From all accounts the animal was a most vicious one and had done much damage with her heels. As one driver was vanquished and another came forward to take his place the new one would be warned of the danger and usually was very careful for the first two or three days after that growing careless and as a general rule followed the precept laid down by his predecessor and succombed to to the deadly bombardment from the mule.

INVESTIGATION PROVES NO FISHING TRUST.

Rumors at Newbern and Morehead City Not Based on Facts.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Newbern, N. C., July 26.—During the past few weeks persistent rumors have been afloat that a fish trust existed with headquarters at Norfolk, Va., Newbern and Morehead City. This rumore became so marked that the matter has been investigated and the true facts, or at last what seem to be the facts hav been ascertained.

So far as Nwbern and Morehead City is concerned the foundation for th rumor doubtless arose from the fact that many of the hucksters have consolidated, thereby cutting out a number of useless fishing boats. At Morehead City it was formerly the case that 30 or 40 and prhaps a larger number of boats were ngaged in the fishing business. With such a large number of craft on the fishing banks it was often the case that a larger number of the finny tribe were taken in a day's catch than could possibly be used and it was found necessary in numerous cases to literally throw the fish away in order to keep them from spoiling or to turn them over to a fertilizer plant at a great loss. Taking this into consideration a number of the fishermen deided that it would be much better to use a smaller number of boats and in this manner catch only enough fish to supply the demand. This action on their part does not help the consumer. In fact, th fishermen ar the only ones who gain any benefit from it and while there are a numbr of fishermen who do not like this method of doing business, it is and has been in progress for some time and will doubtless continue. At this port, conditions are somewhat different. The majority of the local fish dealers have their own boats and these are manned by mn employd by them. Whenever fish are dsired the boats ar sent out and the crw are given ordrs to make the catches. While there are some independent fishermen her, these men usually find a ready sale for their catches at good prices.

PRESIDENT YOUNG HAS COMPLETED PROGRAMME

For National Association of Insurance Commissioners at Asheville.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., July 26.—State commissioners of insurance and leading insurance men in all parts of the country are already reserving hotel accommodations in Asheville, many of them through the State Department of Insurance here, for the annual convention of the National Association of State Commissioners of Insurance, to be in session in "the Mountain city" September 15-18, Hon. James R. Young, North Carolina's commissioner, being president of the association.

The programme for the convention has just been completed and teems with nation-wide interest. The addresses of welcome will be by Governor Locke Craig, Mayor James T. Rankin, of Asheville, and James R. Southgate, of Durham, the latter's welcome being on behalf of the insurance interests of the State. Vice-President John S. Darst, insurance commissioner for West Virginia, will respond to these welcome addresses. The address by President James R. Young, which will treat the whole scope of the insurance business the country over, from the viewpoint of State regulation, is to be delivered at the initial session along with the addresses of welcome.

A business men's convention can meet and do more business in three days than Congress can do in three months. The reason for it is that business men mean business.

Many a political convention is opened by one preacher and closed by a whole squad of policemen. This shows that it is a great deal easier to open a convention than to close it.

A man who is looking for a good town never steers around to the court house door to see what the town is doing for itself in the way of giving itself publicity on the court house door.

Richmond has made elaborate arrangements for a "better acquaintance week," to be pulled off from August the 10th to 15th. This is Richmond's second affair of the kind to further her trade extention plans, and it can be said that the efforts of her jobbers have been so successful that they are naw thoroughly united in bringing trade to the city, each relying on himself to get his share when it comes. Competition there is sharp but that does not keep all the jobbers from appreciating the fact that when they all pull together there is more trade for each. Richmond has an elaborate programme for every day or her glad-to-see-you week, and if any retail merchant in Virginia or North Carolina doesn't know he has been invited it is because he hasn't read the newspapers.

CURE FOR BUBONIC PLAGUE.

According to Dr. Oscar Dowling, Dr. C. C. Bass and Dr. W. H. Seamann, of New Orleans, the serum cure for Bubonic plague has met with success in that plague stricken city. They are taking a hand in treating cases at the emergency hospital and are remaining at a post of danger to study the disease with a view to staying its progress and eradicating it from the city. In the treatment of cases at the hospital, the three doctors named have experimented with numerous victims and claim to have met with success by frequent injections of anti-plague serum in large quantities. Therein, they say, lies the effectiveness of the treatment.

The New Orleans doctors in a statement in the New Orleans States say they have carefully observed the Steady improvement of the bubonic plague patients, and have practically convinced themselves that the plague has been successfully treated for the first time in the history of the world. According to Dr. Dowling, the secret of the success of the treatment lies in the quantity of anti-plague serum injected. The amount of the serum used is in excess of the amount employed in either Porto Rico or India. Up to last Tuesday morning only one plague victim who had been inoculated died. He was a negro who lived 15 hours after the serum had been administered. All the other patients are recovering.

The type of plague now spreading in New Orleans is said to be the same as that which was dealt with in Porto Rico, so the doctors declare. They say that there can be no doubt that it was brought to New Orleans by rats. On Tuesday another plague infected rat was caught in a trap, and the surgeons of the United States Health service who are examining rats at the laboratory declare that the only way to stamp out the plague is to eradicate the rats which infect the wharves. Accordingly, a merciless battle is being waged night and day against rats. No secret is made of the fact that New Orleans is thoroughly infected with the deadly plague, and at each focus of infection the surgeons are tracing it to the rats which infest the wharves.

The infected rats were taken into New Orleans on ships, and if only one such rat becomes a member of a wharf rat colony, the infection spreads like wildfire till it reaches its human victim and fills graveyards more rapidly than all other known diseases.

The United States Health Department experts at New Orleans have sounded a general alarm against rats at the ports and all over the country as well. They argue that there should be a campaign of rat extermination everywhere, not only for the reason that there is danger from plague infection, but for the additional reason that the rodents are generally destructive and specially detrimental to sanitation everywhere.

A BOY AND HIS HEAD.

A smart boy, with a good head on his shoulders, and willing hands, is just as apt to win fame as the oldest man in the country. Opportunity knocks at the door of every boy with horse sense. Up till recently Lawrence Sperry was an ordinary Brooklyn boy who was known only among the people in his neighborhood. Within the past few weeks he has become famous and the newspapers and magazines are printing his picture and telling about his wonderful achievement.

Young Sperry has invented an aeroplane stabilizer and has pocketed the $50,000 offered by the French government for a device that would keep flying machines on an even keel. Up in the air aeroplanes are subject to being overturned or tilted from side to side, causing the aviator to lose control of his machine with disastrous results, so that a stabilizer that would prevent flying machines from being upset was one of the things most needed in aviation. For that reason the French government offered a reward of $50,000 for the invention of a stabilizer that would keep an aeroplane on a dead level if the weight should be shifted more to one portion of it than to another as it was suspended in the air, thus bringing about a loss of equilibrium.

Young Sperry's invention is described as a series of four gyroscopes, a device which gyrates in the direction of the weight and keeps the bottom down and the top up at all angles. The Sperry invention was tested at a height of 600 feet in the air and it worked perfectly. He stood up in the machine, releasing the controls, while his mechanic climbed out on one of the planes. The machine never tilted but flew on undisturbed. The French were convinced and the American boy became a man of wealth.

The boy used his head and made a discovery. It is always hard to tell what is in a boy's head. He will never know himself till he uses it. A boy with a good head has a capital asset, but, of course, it depends on a boy whether he shall be a bonehead or not.

It is announced that Conrad Norton of Buffalo, is sueing for divorce because his wife insists on keeping thirty five cats. Nothing else might be expected of an ingenious individual like a Buffalo man. When a Wilmington man finds out that cats interfere with his domestic felicity he gets him a tow sack and uses it in such a way that no self respecting cat will stay around where he can get the best of it.

Huerta's elimination by the Wilson process has "near in and about ruint" the line of atack some of his opponents considered as their best opportunity to undermine his administration. Wilson has more brains than they have luck.

WORLD'S MARKET EDITION.

It remained for the New Orleans Picayune to publish a "Panama World's Market Edition" that at once captures the premiership as a publication exploiting the great Isthmian watrway which is to be the inter-oceanic gateway for the new trade route of the world's shipping. Aside from the beauty and handsomeness of the edition, and the high standard of its typography and material features, the Picayune's publication is the most comprehensive, most intertaining and most valuable canal compendium that has come under our eye.

The great interest in the Panama Canal throughout the South Atlantic could not be more intensified by the opening of the Isthmiam waterway, as scheduled for August 15th, than by such a publication as the Picayune got out under date of December 30th and which is being distributed in a more general way at this time. Those who look it over will get their greatest inspiration of the real achievements of the canal and will for the first time get the real scope of its possibilities for Southern commercial expansion.

The Picayune's edition is handsomely and strickingly illustrated and it is a history of old Panama and of American constructive genius in cleaving the continent between the two oceans, while it is a powerful historic insight into the immense possibilities of the mariantime trade of the Western World in the future. It tells of the maratime world's trade route and of the trade countries to be reached by it, and as a whole the publication is a work of immense value in each and all its features.

Not the least interesting features are the illustrated sketches of the great constructive captains to whom credit is given for completing the canal in such marvelous record breaking time. They are Colonel George W. Goethals, chief engiher and Governor of the Panama Canal Zone, Lieutenant Colonel D. DuBose Gaillard, now lemented, assistant engineer, and Colonel William C. Gorgas, the sanitary scientist who converted the deadly canal region into a healthy condition that has caused the world to marvel. Colonel Gorgas is an Alabamian and the lamented Gaillard was a South Carolinia—Southerners of whom al the nation is proud.

The edition contains dramatic and tragic chapters of the early history of Panama, when the new world's fabulous wealth poured from the Pacific to the Atlantic in the last half of the sixteenth century. That was the era of the world's most famous period of piracy, when Panama was made historic by the baccaneers, led by that titled cut-throat, Sir Henry Morgan, followed by the boldest and most daring men who ever scuttled a ship. The ancient and the modern glimpse of it is given in the Picayune's edition, but the chief aim is that which concerns the possibilities of the canal for New Orleans and the South—the South Atlantic as well.

The edition carries us from the day of the wheel barrow to the steam drege, and we are brought face to face with the fact that the opening of the Canal places the entire South at the vantage point of the world's new trade route. In the edition we get a glimpse of the great public and railroad terminal schemes carried out at New Orleans, which, at this time, is conceded to be America's greatest ocean export terminal. New Orleans is ready for the opening of the Canal, and it is appointed through destiny and the enterprise of its business men to be the Canal gateway for the West and the Middle West.

A few days ago a man was deploring the crookedness of politics while he kept right on selling his customer a basket of peaches with all the good ones on top and the specked ones at the bottom. Most of the peaches sold in Wilmington are not allowed to fill up the basket, so the rim can get plenty of fresh air.

One way to handle New York's gunmen would be to make plainclothes men of about a dozen Texas cowboys whose aim with a revolver is so accurate that they can hit a dog's yelp without touching the dog.

CURRENT COMMENT

If Colonel Roosevelt cannot prove about anything he wants to on Boss Barnes he ought to have to go to jail. —Durham Herald (Ind.)

Why doesn't Bill Sulzer refuse to become governor of New York and make it unanimous?—Washington Post.

Says the Wilmington Star: "Some doctor is again insisting that a man is whatever he eats. A man who has to eat his words knows that as well as the doctor." Wonder if it would make a man "shell out" if he took an extended course in breakfast foods?—Jacksonville Times-Union.

With the appointment of Edwin Yates Webb, as chairman of the judiciary committee, the seat at the head of the great law branch of the House will be occupied by the youngest man that has ever occupied that post. Mr. Webb is only 42 years old, and he has been in Congress since he was 31. He takes the place once held by Jenkins, of Wisconsin, a Republican standpatter of the worst type; later held by Clayton, of Alabama, a Democratic standpatter, of corresponding quality. Webb is a real liberal among Democrats. Born a decade after the Civil War started, he lives in the present not a past era. He is one of the kind of Democrats whose leadership is more and more needed by their party. It is gratifying to see recognition given to men of the Webb type, no matter to what party they belong.—Washington Times.

The humble huckleberries, known to fame as the "Sampson County Blues," are developing into a prominent place as a commercial asset of the State. The Mount Olive correspondent of The Wilmington Star says that $42,000 worth of huckleberries have been shipped from that one point the present season. The Star has no doubt that these figures are accurate, and says they tell but half the story, for the larger crop of Duplin, Wayne and Sampson county is to be taken into account. The huckleberry crop of the east, like the blackberry of the west, is a volunteer crop and costs nothing but the expense of picking. It is safe enough to claim that money grows on bushes in North Carolina. The proof is abundant and far-flung.—Charlotte Observer.

At a meeting of the directors of the Bank of Sanford Tuesday a semi-annual four per cent. dividend was declared. Everything was found in the showing made. A motion was made in the meeting that the chairman of the board of directors appoint a committee of three to exploit the resources and advantages offered by Lee county. Messrs. C. L. Williams, R. W. Allen and W. F. Edwards were appointed on this committee. The plan is to get Mr. Blon H. Butler, one of the best writers in the State, to come to the county and write a series of articles setting forth the advantages that we have to offer those who wish to engage in farming, manufacturing and any other business; also get Mr. I. T. Prosser, the agricultural agent of the Seaboard Air Line Railway, take a trip over the good roads and through all sections of the county.—Sanford Express.

The endorsement of Chief Justice Walter Clark for the vacancy on the Supreme Court bench of the United States has been well nigh unanimous throughout North Carolina and these endorsements are still being reported from various counties. It is a high tribute to Judge Clark which is being paid in North Carolina, and there are endorsements from outside the State also. One of these, this from Hon. Cornelius H. Fauntleroy, of St. Louis, published in another part of this paper, sets out cogent reasons why the services of Judge Clark would prove of great advantage on the United States Supreme Court bench. The question of age has been raised as to Judge Clark, and his has been placed at 68. He has not yet reached that mile post, his last birthday anniversary having been the 67th. When Judge Lurton, whose death has created the vacancy, was appointed he was 66 years of age. On the Supreme Court bench in Washington the ages of the majority of the court are over 70, and Judge Lurton had passed that age when he died. Judge Clark is now 20 years younger than were Gladstone and Bismarck when they were prime ministers. In North Carolina Judge Smith and Judge Ashe were each 75 years old when elected to the Supreme court, and Judge Boyden was 75 when appointed. Chief Justice Ruffin was elected the second time when he was 72 years old. And Judge Clark today is as active as a man of 20 years his junior.—Raleigh News and Observer.

A partisan tendency—or is it plain demagogy?—has carried some of the papers of the State, and papers at that ordinarily well balanced, to some unpleasant extremes. The Wilmington Star has noted the tendency of the papers in question in referring to the "pork barrel," in connection with the efforts of the North Carolina delegation in Congress to secure appropriations for the development of the waterways of the State. We stand by The Star in the assertion that "there is not a waterway project in North Carolina that is not highly meritorious and absolutely necessary and so recommended by the rivers and harbors engineers. Nothing that is not necessary gets by the army engineers down South, and we presume that the whole country gets the same conscientious, scrupulous, efficient and reliable service throughout the country. Indeed, we have known North Carolina projects both feasible and meritorious in a way, to be reported against altogether on the economical idea that the present commerce did not warrant the improvement at this time. In other words, there was no pressing necessity for it, no emergency calling for it and no present possibility to warrant the expenditure till some time in the future when conditions changed." It is further true, as The Star sets forth, that North Carolina does not ask one dollar that is not needed to improve her waterways, and the truth is her projects exist on half rations largely for the reason that the press of the State has not conceived the importance of the State's waterways and commercial possibilities. On the contrary, many papers have hurt the State's cause by echoing the "pork barrel" cry against appropriations, whether they are needed or unnecessary. Discrimination should be exercised till the actual facts are known. These gibes directed against the efforts of the North Carolina senators and representatives would give little cause for wonder if they came from Republican papers. As it is, they are out of accord with Democratic sentiment in the State and representatives at Washington probably take comfort in that fact. As for The Observer, it wants all the money it can get for the improvement of the rivers of the State, and further, it is with the towns that want public buildings. North Carolina is not calling for this money as spoils, but for the legitimate development and improvement of its commerce and business.—Charlotte Observer.

POLICE AND SPECIAL AGENTS SEARCH FOR TRAIN ROBBERS.

Two Men Held As Suspects While a Search is Being Made for Another.

New Orleans, July 25.—Police and special agents continued their search tonight for the men who last night held up the New York Limited passenger train on the L. & N. Railroad, on the outskirts of the city and killed Flagman Thomas Elgin. Two men giving their names as Tonney and Homer, of Mobile, are being held pending investigation.

Alfred E. Oliver, of Bay St. Louis, Miss., is being sought by the police in connection with the hold-up. Conductor P. H. Potter, who was in charge of the train, the police assert, identified Oliver as the man who killed Flagman Elgin. The police are also searching for Clarence Boatwright who, with Oliver, was arrested last September for having planned to hold-up the same train.

MEDIATION HAS FAILED AND STRIKE IS IMMINENT

Engineers and Firemen, While Mediating, Prepare for Strike.

Chicago, July 25.—After announcing that mediation had failed to bring the representatives of the 98 Western roads and their crews any nearer a settlement, the Federal commissioners tonight sought an adjustment along new lines.

Just what the latest suggestion of the government mediators is, none of the parties involved would say.

THE PRICE SHE PAYS.

There is hardly an American woman nowadays who can keep pace with the demands made upon her time and energy without paying the penalty of ill-health. It may be that dreadful backache, dragging pains, head aches, nervousness or the tortures of a displacement. It is the price she pays. To women in this condition Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound comes as a boon and a blessing. A simple remedy made from roots and herbs which brings glorious health to suffering women.

MORGAN PEOPLE MADE YADKIN VALLEY DEAL

Hon. A. L. Brooks Wants Federal Investigation

Greensboro Man Declares Southern Railway and Coast Line Got Property for Nothing—Wilmington and Southport Bottled.

That the Morgan interests were behind the deal by which the Cape Fear and Yadkin Valley Railroad was divided between the Southern Railway and the Atlantic Coast Line in violation of an expressed decree of the United States Court and of the Sherman anti-trust act and that these railroads after destroying the competition of this railroad and having effectually bottled up Wilmington and Southport harbor now propose to establish an ocean gateway at Charleston, S. C., and ignore North Carolina entirely are some of the charges made in an extended interview by Hon. A. L. Brooks, of Greensboro, to a reporter of the Greensboro Daily News, which appeared in yesterday's issue of that paper.

In the light of other investigations now being made by the Department of Justice at Washington, notably that of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad, Mr. Brooks feels that now would be an opportune time for the matter of the sale of the Yadkin Valley also to be brought before the department. Below is the interview as published in yesterday's Greensboro Daily News:

"I understand that Attorney General Bickett has finished his work in connection with the freight rate hearing at Asheville and is now preparing his report upon the findings of the Corporation Commission, and will at an early date, present a request to the Department of Justice at Washington that suit be instituted to break up the dismemberment of this road and restore it to the State as a continuous independent system of road. Just now would seem to be a very opportune time for North Carolina to lay this matter before the Department of Justice. The Morgan interests, as you know, organized and control the Southern Railway Company, and its conduct in these parts is close akin to its conduct in connection with the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad, which it also controls. You no doubt saw from the press a few days ago that the Inter-State Commerce Commission unanimously found as a fact, and reported that the same Morgan interests, and their associates, had juggled properties in the New England States, and by a serls of purchases, sales and bond issues had defrauded the stockholders of that road out of about $90,000,000, and that the President of the United Stats, after considering the matter with his cabinet, instructed the attorney general to institute criminal proceedings against the directors who had been guilty of these wrongs, and that suit has also been instituted to recover many millions of dollars personally from these financiers who looted the system. While the right hand of this coterie of so-called high financiers was lifting money wrongfully out of the pockets of these New England properties, the same interest was at work with their left hand, committing wrongs through the Southern Railway Company in the Sauth.

"Mr. Dulaney, of Bristol, Tenn., in a statement before the Inter-State Commerce Commission in Washington day before yesterday, stated that he once offered to sell the Southwestern Railroad of Tennessee to the Southern for $500,000, but they refused to purchase, but later the Southern, through some other gentleman, took over this road at the price of $6,500,000. Just what became of the extra $6,000,000 Mr. Dulaney did not explain. He also stated that the Knoxville & Bristol Railway was sold to the Southern for $500,000, and that he had previously offered to sell the same road to the Southern for $40,000.

"These smooth gentlemen of the money bag worked even a worse trick in North Carolina when they robbed the State of the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley Railroad and divided it between themselves and the Atlantic Coast Line, in violation of an expressed decree of the United States court forbidding that it should be dismembered, and in contravention of the Sherman anti-trust act, which declares that there shall be no suppression of competition in transportation by roads engaged in inter-State commerce.

"The real truth of this transaction is that the Southern and the Coast Line took this property without paying anything for it. They purchased it at the sale for the amount of the first mortgage indebtedness, $3,125,000. Then they put a larger bonded indebtedness on the same property, and with these new bonds took up the old bonds, and the balance was clear profit. Hence, they not only profited by their own wrong financially at the time of the sale, but have destroyed competition and created a monopoly in this section of the State for the Southern.

"I notice from the papers this morning that Mr. Thom, general counsel for the Southern, has announced that this road will build coal piers at Charleston, S. C., and make that its harbor. This is in line with the Southern's past treatment of the people of North Carolina. Captain Fry testified before the State Corporation Commission when it was examining into the dismemberment of the Cape Fear and Yadkin Valley Railroad that he as superintendent of that road had secured an agreement with the Norfolk and Western to make Winston and Greensboro gateways as a bases for freight rates, but that when the receivership, and sale of this road followed, this arrangement was destroyed and they were left at the mercy of the other railroads. The Southern and the Coast Line having destroyed the competition of the Cape Fear and Yadkin Valley, and bottled up the Wilmington and Southport harbors, the Southern now arbitrarily maintains a gateway in Virginia, through which the freight tolls from all of the incoming and outgoing freight in North Carolina overland is fixed, and now they propose to establish their ocean gateway in South Carolina, at Charleston, ignoring North Carolina entirely. In other words, we find ourselves in this unhappy condition: That all of our incoming and outgoing freight if hauled by rail must pay tribute to the gate way charges of Virginia, and if it comes by water it must pay tribute to the gateway rates fixed at the harbor in Charleston, in each instance giving a longer haul and more freight to the Southern, and 'Jones' continues to pay the freight.

"The business organizations of the State and Governor Craig succeeded after a terrible fight in forcing some concessions from the railroad, but nobody contends that justice is yet done to the people of North Carolina. In my opinion, the one hope of the people of the State for relief from the clutches of this avaricious railroad monopoly lies in re-establishing the Cape Fear and Yadkin Valley Railroad as an independent system, opening up the ports at Wilmington and Southport, and building the short link from Mt. Airy to Galax, Va., connecting there with the Norfolk and Western and the coal fields.

"I have no doubt that the Department of Justice will act to save the people of North Carolina from the condition in which we find ourselves when Attorney General Bickett lays these matters before it. I am sure it will, because certainly no department of justice will deny relief to a people so sorely afflicted as is North Carolina, when the State Legislature by a joint resolution requests it, and the Corporation Commission and attorney general of the State find the facts to justify it and recommend that the government act. Indeed, the statement of Mr. Walters before the Corporation Commission, the principal owner of the Coast Line Railroad, and the man who acted for this road and the Southern in this unlawful transaction, shows that they committed a wrong, and did it with their eyes open, and under such circumstances any lawyer who investigates the facts will know that the courts will correct it, if given an opportunity."

SUNDAY SCHOOL TRAINING

Hon. J. A. Brown at Fifth Street Church Yesterday Morning—Sermon to Maccabees.

Hon. J. A. Brown, of Chadbourn, president of the North Carolina Sunday School Association, made an urgent plea for organized Sunday school work at the morning service of Fifth Street Methodist church yesterday. That the children should have not only training of mind and body but also in things spiritual as well, was brought home by striking illustrations to the members of the congregation. His address was mainly to parents and he urged that they by example teach their children the fundamental truths of the Christian religion.

The open air service at this church last night was largely attended and on account of the warmth of the weather proved to be most popular. Rev. G. T. Adams, the pastor, preached a special sermon to the local tent of the Maccabees, a fraternal organization that has a large membership in this city. They attended the services in a body. Mr. Adams took as his subject, "Jesus Christ, the Great World Brother." He showed how Christ had revealed God to the world as the loving father and how He had made possible the brotherhood of man which naturally follows from the fatherhood of God.

A special feature of the night service was the singing. The old songs, known and loved by all, were sung with much spirit and interest. The Acme Male Quartette sang several selections. Although there were not enough seats last night to accommodate the large congregation and some had to stand, enough will be provided for the open air service next Sunday night to accommodate all who come.

The address of Mr. Brown yesterday morning was heard with particular interest because of its practical nature. He showed the magnitude of the organized Sunday school movement in which more than 30,000,000 million people are engaged. There is nothing that should appeal more to the parent, he stated, than the training of his child, and yet in too many homes it is neglected. The speaker made an earnest plea that the children should first of all be given the proper home training and that they should then be sent to the Sunday school.

He urged that parents should set the example for their children by going to Sunday school. He paid a beautiful tribute to the women who have worked so faithfully in the Sunday schools. There was a time when men rather thought it was beneath their dignity to go to Sunday school but Mr. Brown was glad to know that this idea is rapidly passing away and that men are coming more and more to understand the importance of this institution.

He deplored the tendency of the age to make pleasure the chief end of life. Thousands desecrate the Sabbath by spending it in seeking pleasure at the seashore or some other place of pleasure, he declared, forgetting their duty to God and to themselves to develop the highest and noblest in their natures.

AT TRINITY M. E. CHURCH.

Rev. Phillip Greening Conducts Services in Absence of Pastor.

In the absence of the pastor Rev. W. L. Rexford, Rev. Phillip Greening conducted the services yesterday at Trinity M. E. Church, Ninth and Market streets, being heard by good congregations both at 11 A. M. and 8 P. M. despite the warm weather. Mr. Greening is an attractive speaker and was listented to with pleasure and profit by the congregations at each service. Rev. Mr. Greening announced that he would probably again preach for the congregation next Sabbath.

Rev. W. L. Rexford, the beloved pastor of Trinity, has been granted a leave of absence by his church until the first of September and he left some days ago for the mountains of Western North Carolina around Asheville. It will be a pleasure to his friends to know that he is improving and they hope for his return very much improved in health in the early Fal. Mr. Rexford was accompained by his wife.

MRS. W. T. MOTT DEAD.

Passed Away at James Walker Memorial Hospital Yesterday.

Many friends will regret to learn of the death of Mrs. Addie Mott, wife of Mr. W. T. Mott, which occurred yesterday morning at 2:30 o'clock at the James Walker Memorial Hospital. She was 35 years old and besides her husband is survived by four small children. She was a devout Christian woman.

The body was removed to the family home at No. 309 Meares street yesterday and the funeral was held at the residence yesterday afternoon at 6 o'clock. The remains will be taken to the old home at Freeman on the 5 o'clock train this morning for interment.

DOGS SHOULD BE MUZZLED

Rev. W. E. Cox Calls Attention to Grave Danger That Exists—Cites Several Examples.

After citing two personal experiences with rabid animals and calling attention to the condition existing in Birmingham, Ala., Rev. W. E. Cox, rector of St. John's Church, in a signed communication to the Star urges that the dogs of Wilmington be muzzled for the next two months at least, or that some other measure equally effective be adopted to protect citizens against danger on account of rabid dogs.

Following is the communication from Mr. Cox:

July 25, 1914.

To the Editor of The Star:

In view of the recent agitation of the dog question through the columns of your paper, I beg to hand you herewith a copy of the Knoxville (Tenn.) Sentinel with a marked item from Birmingham, Ala., referring to the number of people there now in the Pasteur Institute for treatment for rabies.

Every summer since I have been in Wilmington the dog question has been more or less crucial, and I have felt with increasing force the urgent necessity for muzzling the dogs, or for some means of protecting the people against them at this season of the year. Summer before last two children in my own congregation, along with some other children, were bitten by a rabid dog, and I was instrumental in providing the means for giving them the Pasteur treatment. Last summer I happened by chance to meet a sick mule loose in the streets. The mule seemed to have a broken leg, was bleeding at the mouth, and was suffering intensely. I called the attention of the police to him, and with them and neighbors that gathered round, we spent several hours trying to Minister to him. He was finally killed by the police. I was later informed by one of the policemen that the mule had been bitten by a mad dog, that just before I found him he had broken loose and chased members of the family where he belonged, trying to follow them into the house, and had then taken to the streets, his owner not being at home. I was told by the policemen that I had run a grave risk in trying to minister to that suffering animal.

Having had these two personal experiences, and having heard of others equally grave, I wish to urge, with all the influence that I may have, that the dogs of our city be muzzled for the next two months at least, or that some other measure equally effective be adopted to protect the people of the city against danger on account of them. I am perfectly willing for those who have dogs and love them to keep them and enjoy them, but I believe that due precaution should be taken to protect everybody from a danger that is possible at any time from any dog at this season of the year, and I earnestly hope that such precaution will be promptly taken.

W. E. COX,
Rector St. John's Church.

Following is the dispatch referred to in the above communication: Birmingham—Mad dogs are numerous in and around Birmingham and upwards of twenty-four to twenty-seven men, women and children are in Montgomery at the Pasteur Institute, or at other points being treated against rabies, according to Dr. French, a well known veterinary surgeon here.

BOAT CAPSIZED IN CHANNEL

Mr. E. R. Pickard and Family Had Narrow Escape From Drowning Yesterday at Beach.

Mr. E. R. Pickard and family had a narrow escape from drowning when a fishing boat in which they were taking a ride in Bank's channel capsized near Lumina, precipitating them into the water, yesterday morning about 11 o'clock. Fortunately, Mr. H. L. Fennel and party were near them in Mr. Fennell's fast racing motor boat and quickly rescued them.

Those in the boat with Mr. Pickard were his wife, two children and his wife's sister, who came the nearest to be drowned. The children were also in bad plight and had it not been for the quick arrival of Mr. Fennell and party would undoubtedly have been drowned also.

Those in Mr. Fennell's boat besides himself were his son, Mr. James Fennell and Mr. William Struthers. They were enjoying a ride in the channel and when Mr. Pickard's boat was capsized were some distance away. However, the boat runs on high speed and they made quick time. Mr. James Fennell leaped into the water and picked up several of those in the water.

They were all taken into the boat to the land and were little the worse for their experience beyond having a bad scare.

The cause of the boat's overturning was not learned.

SERVICES AT SOUTHSIDE

Rev. Romulus F. Hall Preaches in Absence of His Brother.

The congregation of Southside Baptist Church, in the absence of their paster the Rev. W. G. Hall, who is spending a much needed vacation at his former home at Fayetteville, N. C., heard two strong sermons yesterday by Rev. Romulus F. Hall, brother of the pastor, who is supplying the pulpit for him during his absence.

Rev. Mr. Halls health has not been so good lately and he has gone to the upper Cape Fear country with the hope that the change will be of benefit to him. He will return to Wilmington, his many friends hope, much improved in health.

DEATH OF YOUNG SON.

Little Charles Harper Darby Died at Home of Parents Yesterday.

Many friends will sympatrize tenderly with Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Darby in the death of their six-month-old son, Charles Harper Darby, which occurred at family home, No. 508 South Front street, yesterday morning at 2:45 o'clock. The little fellow had been sick for some time and his death was not unexpected. The direct cause of death was pneumonia.

The funeral will be conducted from the residence this morning at 9:30 o'clock by Rev. Father Dennen, rector of St. Mary's Pro-Cathedral. The interment will be in Oakdale cemetery.

—Mr. George Thees left yesterday afternoon for Brunswick county where he will spend a week or ten days with Mr. Geo. M. Bellamy.

MR. WILLIAM A. MARTIN DEAD

Well Known and Highly Esteemed Wilmington Citizen Died Suddenly Yesterday Evening.

Many friends in Wilmington and throughout this section of the State will learn with sorrow of the death of Mr. Willam Alfred Martin, one of Wilmington's best known and most highly esteemed citizens, which occurred suddenly, of angina pectoris, last night at 8:30 o'clock at the home of his brother, Eugene S. Martin, Esq., No. 520 Dock street.

Mr. Martin had been in rather feeble health for a year or two but recently had seemed improved, was about his business as usual and only yesterday afternoon took a trip to Wrightsville Beach, returning in the early evening and being at supper with the family as usual. About 8 o'clock, while at home, he suffered an attack of angina pectoris and died within half an hour. Physicians were hastily summoned upon the first manifestation of the attack, but when Dr. Jos. W. Hopper, the first to arrive, came to the stricken man's bedside, the end had come. Mrs. Grace M. Hengeveld, a trained nurse, was in the vicinity of the Martin home and came at once, doing what she could to stay the inevitable consequences of the attack and ministering to Mr. Martin to the end. The news of his death will bring sorrow to the hearts of many who knew him so well during his long residence in Wilmington.

Mr. Martin was born in Wilmington March 22, 1848, and had, therefore, entered upon his 67th year. He was a son of the late Alfred Martin, prominent in the earlier commercial life of Wilmington, and of Mrs. Christian Dudley Martin, both of whom have long since entered into rest. Mr. Martin was educated in the schools of Wilmington and after spending a couple of years in the West during his early manhood, returned to Wilmington and was engaged with his father in the extensive naval store business of Rankin & Martin. Mr. Martin continued in this business up to the time of his death and was an authority in his line. He was a chemist of ability and did much research work along improved methods of distilling and compounding naval stores products. The style of his firm until his death was W. A. Martin &Company, with offices in the new Maffitt building at Water and Princess streets.

Mr. Martin was married in 1875 to Miss Adelaide Willson, who passed away in 1883. Of this union there were two children, both now grown, these being Mrs. Charles E. Taylor, Jr., of this city, and Mr. William A. Martin, Jr., of New York. There are also surviving one brother, Mr. Eugene S. Martin, of the Wilmington bar, and two sisters, Mrs. Eugene Maffitt, of Wilmington, and Mrs. Emma Maffitt, who has been making her home with her daughter, Mrs. Herbert Borden, of New York. They have the sympathy of friends in their bereavement.

Quiet and unassuming, yet withal genial and kindly in his nature, Mr. Martin made many warm, personal friends. The fraternal spirit in him was strong and he was perhaps one of the best posted Masons in the city. For twenty years or perhaps longer, he had been secretary of Concord Chapter No. 1, Royal Arch Masons, and for years had been a member of Orient Lodge No. 395, A. F. & A. M. He was also a Scottish Rite Mason being also in addition to secretary of Concord Chapter, recorder of Munson Council No. 4, Royal and Select Masters.

Mr. Martin was a musician of talent and had frequently contributed his services to the various church choirs and entertainments. He played the flute, 'cello, violin and possibly other instruments, being heard always with interest and pleasure.

Mrs. Taylor, daughter of Mr. Martin, thinking her father much improved even from his feeble health of the past several months, had just left to spend some time away from Wilmington during the summer, when the sad news was telegraphed to her last evening. Other absent members of the family have also been communicated with and until they are heard from no arrangements will be made for the funeral. The services, however, will likely take place Tuesday at an hour to be announced later.

A LITTLE WARM, YES.

But 93 Degrees Was the Maximum Registered by Weather Bureau.

When people read yesterday morning that on Saturday the mercurial registration of the heat was 99 degrees, breaking all records for the Summer, they were fully prepared to believe it.

But when Observer Felger gave out last night that 93 was the maximum for yesterday—Sunday—the average inhabitant shook his head in an incedulous sort of way and wanted to charge the genial Weather representative with perverting the facts. But it was even so—93 was the maximum, as officially recorded. The intensity of the heat was accentuated by the great humidity which was much higher than the day before. At any rate the heat was sufficient to send hundreds scurrying to the seashore while those who perforce had to stay in town, shook their coats and all superfluous vestments and took it as easy as was possible.

A glance at the Weather Bureau reports will show some high readings as follows: Augusta 102, Charlotte 100, Raleigh 100, Charestion 96 and Atlanta 94.

STENOGRAPHERS WANTED.

Uncle Sam Will Have Examinations in Wilmington on August 15.

The United States Civil Service Commission announces an open competitive examination in Wilmington on August 15 to provide a list of eligibles from which to make certifications for filling vacancies as they may occur in positions requiring a knowledge of stenography, typewriting or stenography and typewriting in the Federal classified civil service in the vicinity of the examination. Women will not be admitted to the examinations, nor to other similar examinations until February 1915, unless the needs of the service require otherwise.

Applicants must be at least 18 years old at the time of the examination. Persons who wish to enter the examinations should apply to the Secretary of the Fourth Civil Service District, Washington, D. C., for form 1424 and application form 1371. Application can also be made to the secretary of the local board of civil service examiners, at the postoffice in Wilmington. Applications should be filed without delay in order that the proper arrangements may be made for the examination on the date named.

Many Wilmington friends were much concerned yesterday over an item appearing in the Charlotte Observer to the effect that Mrs. T. M. Constable, of that city, left Saturday evening for Baltimore in response to a telegram announcing the serious illness of her sister, Mrs. M. S. Willard, of this city, who underwent an operation at Johns Hopkins. It was stated that Mrs. Willard had been in ill health for the past several years and the attending physicians give no hope of recovery. Mr. and Mrs. Willard have been at Tate Springs, Tenn., for some time and while it was known that they expected later to go to Baltimore where Mrs. Willard expected to consult a specialist, it was not known by relatives here that her condition was so serious. From the fact that relatives in Wilmington had heard nothing yesterday as to the serious condition of Mrs. Willard it is believed there has been some mistake and that while she and Mr. Willard are in Baltimore her condition is not so alarming as indicated in the item from The Observer.

MISS BEULAH CULBERSON BECOMES BRIDE OF MR. M. W. HARRIS

Rockingham, N. C., July 26.—A marriage of much interest took place at Rockingham on Wednesday evening of the past week, at 8 o'clock at the home of the bride when Miss Beulah Culberson became the bride of Mr. M. W. Harris. The parlors were beautifully decorated with ferns and potted plants. The bride wore a traveling suit of gray, accessories to match and carried bride's roses. Mrs. M. W. Gaither, of Wake Forest, N. C., was her sister's dame of honor, gowned in blue messaline with lace trimmings. Little Miss Culberson, cousin of the bride, was ring bearer, dressed in white lingerie with pink trimmings. Rev. E. S. Davis, pastor of the bride, performed the ceremony, using the impressive ring ceremony, after which a reception followed. The color scheme in the dining room was pink and white.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Culberson, a popular young lady of Rockingham, while the groom is a prominent young business man of Goldston, N. C., being cashier of the Bank of Goldston. The popular young people have a host of friends who wish them much happiness.

Among the out-of-town friends here for the marriage were Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Gaither, of Wake Forest; Mr. A. W. Harris, of Forest City, and Mr. and Mrs. Earl G. Harris, of Gibson, N. C.

PLEASANT BRIDGE PARTY AT TARBORO FRIDAY EVENING

Tarboro, July 23.—Wednesday afternoon from 5 until 7 o'clock, at her beautiful home on Park avenue, Mrs. Harry Smith was hostess at one of the prettiest afternoon bridge parties of the summer in honor of Miss Marguerite Blocker, of St. Petersburg, Fla., the attractive house guest of Mrs. Thad. W. Thrash, at Cromwell Hall.

The five tables were placed on the spacious verandah of the home and facing the common, the porch was most attractive and cool for the players. The guests found their places at the tables by means of attractive hand-painted place cards and the play started at once.

At the conclusion of the games the cards were cleared from the tables and a delicious three-course luncheon was served, proving this popular hostess an epicure as well as a delightful entertainer.

Those present to enjoy the double pleasure of meeting Miss Blocker and in such a charming environment were Misses Alice Thurston Pender, Elizabeth Howard, Jennie McLaughlin, Elizabeth Baker, Blanche Hilliard Williams, Mary Powell, Susie Wooten, Mamie Bryant, Hattie Howell, Nannie Clark, Florida Cotton, Sally Staton, Fannie Gladstone, Hattie Taylor, Lillian Pitt, Mary Cook and Liza Pender and Mesdames Thad. W. Thrash and Ralph West, of Albany, Ga.

MARRIAGE OF INTEREST SOLEMNIZED IN DUPLIN

Warsaw, N. C., July 26.—The marriage of Mr. Norwood Leslie Foy, of Scott's Hill, and Miss Elizabeth Claudia Southerland was a beautiful event of Thursday afternoon and one of much interest to a large circle of friends. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. E. L. Winecoff, at Grove Presbyterian Church, at 7:30 in the evening. The church was decorated with exquisite taste for the occasion. The pale yellow wall made a beautiful background for the profusion of Southern smilax, plalms and ferns which covered the entire back of the church. A beautiful arch covered with graceful garlands of smilax was ablaze with glowing candles while directly in the centre was a snow white bell under which the solemn vows were said.

Misses Heser Ann Farrior and Libbye Middleson Cooper, wih violins, accompanied by Miss Lucy Iona Southerland at the organ played several beautiful selections as the many friends filled the church.

Just before the ceremony Miss Fanny Gray Farrior sweetly sang "A Perfect Day." At the appointed hours to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march the bridal party entered the church and approached the altar in the following order. Mr. Chauncey Carr and Mr. Alton Newton, ushers; Miss Mary Lowder with Mr. Shepard Bryan, Miss Katherine Newton with Mr. William Southerland, Miss Estelle Cox with Mr. Lawrence Southerland, Miss Josie Foy with Mr. Nereus Southerland, bridesmaids and groomsmen. The bridesmaids wore soft white crepes trimmed with lace and pink girdles and carried pink Killarney roses. The maid of honor, Miss Susie Southerland, came in alone and was charming in a gown of white lace. She, too, carried pink Killarney roses. She was followed by little Misses Lonellen and Rosyln Southerland, flower girl and ring bearer. These little girls were beautifully dressed in embroidered batiste. The bride then came in with her brother, Mr. Charles Southerland, and looked her loveliest in a suit of blue moire, the short coat opening over a white crepe chiffon blouse and with this was worn a most becoming hat to match. Her roses were bride's roses showered with lilies of the valley. The bride was met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Mr. Roderick Sidbury.

After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Foy left for an extended trip to Virginia beach and other places of interest and on their return will make their home at Scott's Hill.

Mrs. Foy is one of Kenansville's most charming daughters and her sweetness of manner has won for her many friends who deeply regret her leaving and wish for her all happiness in her new home.

Mr. Foy is one of Scott's Hill's prominent and progressive young men and has a wide circle of friends. Many handsome wedding gifts attested the popularity of the young couple.

The out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Southerland, of Mt. Olive; Miss Betta Cox, Wilmington; Miss Ethel Hales, Gibsonville, and Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Shines and Mr. Jesse Southerland, of Rose Hill.

Tuesday evening Miss Susie Southerland gave a miscellaneous shower in honor of the bride and on Wednesday evening Mrs. J. N. Southerland entertained in her usual charming way the bridal party.

Wrightsville Beach

Mr. Joe McPhail, a well known young business man, of Fayetteville, was a week-end visitor at the beach.

Mr. and Mrs. McCrary Jones, of Porto Rico, are spending a few days at the beach, guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. Herbert Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. Rosemond, of Fayetteville, and Miss Margaret Bradshaw, of Greensboro, were among the week-end guests at the beach.

Among those registered at the Hanover Inn yesterday were Mr and Mrs. L. P. Smith, Clinton; George Underwood, Fayetteville; R. E. Fleming, Atlanta.

Yesterday's Charlotte Observer: Mrs. J. H. Shuford and little daughters, Helen and Martha, will leave tomorrow for Raleigh to visit relatives. Later Mr. Shuford will join them for a trip to Wrightsville Beach.

Wadesboro, N. C., July 25.—The following people formed a party Friday for a stay at Wrightsville Beach: Misses Jewel and Bright Henry of Lilesville, Myrtle Leslie of Vass, Leola Caudle, Fannie Caudle of Greenville, S. C., Mary Lampley and Mr. Smith Henry of Lilesville.

Yesterday's Charlotte Observer: Mr. and Mrs. Jermiah Goff and Misses Mary and Nancy Shelton and Miss Lila Little of Little's Mills and Miss Rosa Little of Richmond, Va., who were expected home yesterday from a 10-days' stay at Wrightsvile Beach, decided to remain until tomorrow.

Included in the arrivals at the Hanover Inn yesterday were P. H. Dinwiddie and M. N. Darden, Durham; Miss Lena Lazarus, Macon, Ga.; N. P. Gilchrist, W. L. Roperf and E. L. Smith, Laurinburg; D. W. Hogan, Augusta, Ga.; E. N. and C. G. Snow and Hill Hunter, Greensboro; J. Allen Scots, Augusta, G.

Quite a large number of the guests at the different hotels left yesterday afternoon for their homes in various parts of the South after a stay of a week or ten days at the beach. Many arrivals are expected this week and the indications are that there will be no decrease in the large number of visitors on the beach for several weeks yet.

The various raildoads which are making special Sunday rates to the seashore on Sunday brought between 1,200 and 1,300 vistors to the city and Wrightsville yesterday, the crowd being the largest of the one-day excursion travel this season. These helped to swell the crowds from the city and to make the travel on the suburban line the heaviest of any one day since the Fourth of July.

Included in the arrivals at the Oceanic Hotel yesterday were W. E. Price, Durham; Mrs. R. B. Clay, Goldsboro; C. C. Taylor, Greensboro; Y. Y. Jones, Laurinburg; G. C. Royall, Jr., and G. L. Dortch, Goldsboro; C. D. Ferrall, Raleigh; H. L. Watson, Richmond, Va.; Thos. H. Norwood, Goldsboro; Mr. and Mrs. Chas. A. Armstrong, Troy, N. C.; C. D. Laundon and Sam D. Neelley, Lawrenceburg, Tenn.; Albert Lee Smith, Birmingham, Ala.

From the Oceanic Hotel all the way to Lumina yesterday afternoon the surf was filled with bathers. At no time this season have there been so many in the surf. It was low tide and unfortunately a strong undertow made it a bit unpleasant for some. Two couples at the Ocean got out too far and had to be brought in by the life savor. They suffered no ill effects from their adventure and continued in the surf for the remainer of the afternoon.

Including in the arrivals at the Seashore Hotel yesterday were P. R. Floyd, Fairmont; Miss Irene Beekman, Columbia, S. C.; C. H. Bobbitt, Maxton; Mr. and Mrs. Sol Weil, Goldsboro; William Lancaster, Richmond, Va.; J. H. Pearson, Jr.; Norfolk, Va.; H. A. Crowder and A. H. Long, Chattanooga, Tenn.; Robt. R. Covington, Laurinburg; J. M. Odom, Laurel Hill; Geo. C. Southerland, Goldsboro; W. B. Tomlinson, Norfolk, Va.; J. T. Keel and A. S. Lyon, Rocky Mount; Ransom Senders, Smithfield; Miss Elizabeth Minshaw, Greenville, S. C.; Mrs. Rachel Minshaw, Abbeville, S. C.; Thos. W. Bennett, Laurens, S. C.; R. W. Watson, Mt. Airy.

The concerts at Lumina yesterday afternoon and last evening proved most entertaining and pleasing to the large number from the city and beach who went down for the day. Among the favorite numbers during the evening were "The Rosary" played by the 'cello and orchestra and "Ave Maria," played as a violin solo by Richardson himself. Each number proved a classic and the people were especially delighted with the music at the resort both afternoon and evening. The applause was frequent and enthusiastic.

BIGGEST DAY OF SEASON AT ATTRACTIVE WRIGHTSVILLE

Yesterday was the biggest day of the season at Wrightsville Beach, except on the Fourth of July, the suburban cars of the Tidewater Power Company during the day having handled a total of a little over 3,900 people. All equipment was requisitioned to handle the crowds that sought the seashore as welcome relief from the intense heat and humidity and all the afternoon the beach front was lined with bathers, who dispirited themselves in the cooling surf to their hearts' content. At Lumina alone by actual count there were between 900 and 1,000 bathers during the afternoon. The suburban cars without the sembiance of a hitch and schedules were maintained throughout the day in spite of the congestion especially during the afternoon and evening when most people were returning.

LIFE INSURANCE MEN AT BEACH THIS WEEK

The $100,000 agency club of the Jefferson Standard Life Insurance Company, of Greensboro, will hold its annual meeting at the beach this week. Besides the officers of the company, there will be 45 men from the eight Southern States in which this company operates who will attend.

The reports to the agents as to the progress of the company during the first six months during 1914 will be most encouraging. The assets of the company have been increased to over $5,000,000. Of this only about $30,000 is in real estate, practically all of the company's assets being invested in first mortgages on Southern farm lands and improved property.

An increase in new business or nearly $1,500,000 will be reported. The company's semi-annual statement will also show a handsome increase in surplus. A handsome prize will be given to the member of this agency club producing the largest number of completed applications for insurance during the past month, the winner of this to be announced during the meeting. The agents will spend about three days at the beach, enjoying the pleasures of that delightful resort.

SEVENTH DAY ADVENTISTS WILL BUILD CHURCH.

Evangelist Haynes Held Closing Service in Tent Last Night.

The long series of evangelistic meetings which have been in progress for the past nine weeks in the big tent at Eleventh and Market streets, under the direction of Evangelist Carlyle B. Haynes, of the Seventh Day Adventist denomination, came to an end last night with a meeting at which the evangelist delivered an address on the subject of "God's Message for Today." There was a large attendance at this final meeting.

As a result of this series of meetings a Sventh Day Adventist church will be organized next Saturday morning, the Sabbath of the Adventists. This church will be organized by Mr. Haynes at the Jr. O. U. A. M. hall, on South Front street, which will be its regular meeting place until a church edifice can be erected. The regular services of the church will be held Saturday morning, a Sabbath school at 10 o'clock, and a preaching service at 11 o'clock. Services will also be held in the hall on Sunday nights.

Fifty-two meetings have been held in the big tent since the meetings began on the 24th of May. The tent will be taken down today and shipped to Greensboro for the State camp meeting of Seventh Day Adventists which convenes there on August 13, for ten days.

AT IMMANUEL CHURCH.

Rev. W. H. Eubank Heard in Two Interesting Discourses.

Both at the morning and evening service yesterday the congregation of Immanuel Presbyterian church had the pleasure of listening to two able discourses by Rev. W. H. Eubank, a minister of considerable power and much eloquence.

Mr. Eubank's subject at the morning service was "Justification by Faith," and the subject was treated with deep earnestness and in a way that gave evidence of much thought. At night he preached on "Christian Baptism" and was heard not only by members of his own faith, but by many of other congregations who attended to hear a profound discussion of this most interesting question. Mr. Eubank, without giving offense to those of other beliefs, presented the church's position upon baptism in a profound and scholarly manner. He impressed all as a logical thinker and a clear expositor of the Scriptures. He spoke with special reference to the mode and significance of baptism and his treatment of the subject is spoken of as altogether Orthodox by those who heard the discourse. Every member of the church had been especially invited to attend this service while a special invitation had also been extended to the unconverted people or those who were in doubt as to the application or significance of baptism.

RETURNS WITH CONVICT

Mr. Grady Cook Brings Bob Pearsall Back From Norfolk, Va.

Mr. Grady Cook, assistant camp superintendent at the East Wilmington camp, returned last night from Norfolk, Va., with Bob Pearsall, colored, an escaped convict, who was arrested by the police in that city a few days ago. Pearsall was committed to the county jail and will be tried before the Recorder this morning on the charge of escaping from the roads. He had only three more months to serve but it is not improbable that he will get some time additional.

Pearsall made his escape over 18 months ago and since that time has been a fugitive from justice. A few days ago Sheriff Cowan received a telegram from Chief of Police Kizer, of Norfolk, stating that Pearsall had been arrested there for escaping from the roads. It was first announced that on account of the shortness of time he had to serve that the county commissioners did not think it worth while to send for him.

It was also stated further that a telegram had been sent to Chief Kizer to release the negro. However, it was announced later that the negro would be brought back and Sheriff Cowan sent Mr. Cook to Norfolk Friday night.

"LESSONS BY THE WAYSIDE."

Rev. Dr. J. H. Foster Makes Interesting Address Last Night.

"Lessons by the Wayside" was the subject of a most interesting and instructive address by Rev. Dr. J. H. Foster at the First Baptist church last night, the address being devoted to some lessons from his recent trip to the North. Dr. Foster announced that Rev. David Herring, a returned missionary from China, who is spending some time in this county, would preach at this church next Sunday morning.

The feature of the services yesterday was the singing of a solo, "O God, Be Merciful," by Miss Gwendoline Hanby at the morning service and at the night service Miss Agnes Chasten sang, "O Rest in the Lord," from Mendelssohn's Oratorio, "Elijah."

Dr. Foster spoke of the many wonderful things that man has wrought in the great cities of the North, notably in New York. He said that this shows in a most emphatic way the wonderful mind with which God has endowed man and shows also how He has made it possible to take the things of this world and made them into magnificent achievements.

He next recalled the many beautiful scenes visited, showing how these manifest the glory of God. Particularly does Niagara Falls exhibit the wondrous power of God, he said, and as one views this magnificent creation if he be a right thinking man he must be impressed with the fact that God is over all and in all.

From the historical standpoint he showed how the thousands of foreigners are pouring in at Ellis Island every day in the year. God has sent forth the command to preach the gospel to all the world and because of our failure to heed seemingly is bringing them to our very doors where we must either teach them the great truths of Christianity or else be overcome by them. In conclusion Dr. Foster emphasized the fact that nothing but the gospel of Christ will save this world from its sins.

WHO OWNS AUTO' NO. 10,708?

Sheriff Cowan Wants to Get into Communication With Owner.

Sheriff Cowan wants to know who owns the automobile with the new license number, 10,708. He wants to talk with the owner relative to the age of the young fellow who was running the machine yesterday. He thinks that he is under 16 years of age and if so, he was violating the law. Now Sheriff Cowan has no inclination to prosecute folks who violate the law without knowing it provided they evince a spirit of willingness to abide by it in the future.

However, he is determined to enforce the law requiring those running automobiles to be at least 16 years old. There are many who do not know that this is the law and allow their machines to be run by children. Sheriff Cowan says that he doesn't want to have anybody arrested but will be forced to do so, if violations of the law continue. In the meantime, he would like to talk with the owner of machine No. 10,708, to find out about the age of his chauffeur and, if he is under age, to warn the owner that he must get a new chauffeur.

How to Keep Face Young and Attractive

The way to ward off old age is not to fear it, not to allow one's self to be oppressed by the deard of advancing years. Use only legitimate preventives and avoid trying experiments with preparations not endorsed by physicians. An entirely safe and very effective way to keep the complexion young looking and beautiful is to apply ordinary mercolized wax at bedtime, using it like cold cream, washing it off in the morning. This gradually absorbs the withered, faded cuticle, which is replaced by the more youthful, pink-tinted underskin. One ounce of this wax, to be had at any drug store, is enough to completely rejuvenate a worn-out complexion.

Crow's feet and other wrinkles, the first signs of advancing age, may be removed by a simple, harmless preparation made by dissolving an ounce of powdered saxolite in a half pint witch hazel. It is used as a face bath.

JOE, THE WAITER

The Merry Husbands' Club Suspends a Member.

Like a Lightning from a Clear Sky, So Is a Wife That Returns from the Country Quite Unexpectedly.

By ISRAEL J. ZEVIN.

(Copyright, 1914, by the New York Herald Co. All rights reserved.)

HOW about a plate of cold buritchkes? It is a delicious dish for a hot day like this. Just a minute and I'll turn that electric fan to your side. You want to know what's going on here, on the east side? Well, there is so much news that I really don't know where to begin and what to tell you first.

The east side is never quiet, even in the hot summer months. Here everybody feels jolly with 99 in the shade. Even Weiss the undertaker, whose business, like every other business, has slowed down a little on account of the weather, is in good spirits, for, as Weiss himself says, "It is too hot to die; people are glad if they can only live in such blamed hot weather."

We have plenty of amusements here all the year round. Whoever wants to have a good time now, when Broadway is taking a vacation, let him come down here. Why, we even have grand opera in this time of the year, and it does not cost more than moving pictures.

You see those Kibetzers sitting over there and arguing? They are discussing Isaacson's Italian Royal Opera Company, which he starts every summer in one of the theatre buildings that give up playing for the season. Yes, it is the same Isaacson of the Holy Land Moving Picture Company. They call him "The East Side Hammerstein."

The Kibetzers have formed a sort of Merry Husbands' Club, and to be eligible for membership you must first send away your wife to the country. Lawyer Rosenson, who is president of the club, is very busy now making out contracts between actors, play writers, musicians, all kinds of stage hands, and their "bosses," the theatre managers. These contracts are not such an easy job as you might think.

Maybe you don't know Mr. Kelsey. There are some people in the show business who would be happy if they had never known him. You see, Mr. Kelsey is walking delegate of all the unions that are connected with the Yiddish stage. And everything that is connected with the Yiddish stage is unionized, from the boys who walk around between the aisles selling peanuts and soda up to the women whose business it is to faint or to become hysterical at the tragic moments of the play or when the leading lady screams.

Why, even the play writers have been organized not long ago by Mr. Kelsey, and the managers expect lots of trouble from this new union. Well, if a manager wants to make a contract with an actor, a musician, a singer, or with anybody he has got to deal with the union; that is, with Mr. Kelsey. And Mr. Kelsey is good to everybody, but he hates the managers and the theatre trust. So before the season starts Mr. Kelsey comes to the managers and tells them to add a few more union men on their payroll. When the contracts are to be made Mr. Kelsey makes them take more stage carpenters, more programme distributors, more actors and more women that throw fits.

Once, when Borischewsky, the actor-manager, wanted to produce a literary play, that is, a play without songs and dances, the members of the Yiddish Chorists' Union notified Mr. Kelsey, and Mr. Kelsey came and told Mr. Borischewsky that unless he introduced a few songs and dances in that literary play he would order a general strike of all the stage hands.

To save the season Mr. Borischewsky had to give in. After that he had to settle a suit for damages brought against him by the author of the play, who claimed that the songs and dances spoiled the literary merit of his work.

I wish the Walters' Union had a walking delegate like Mr. Kelsey. He is all right. No wonder they say that Irishmen have big hearts. It is true they like to give everybody a show. If they can't give you a city job they'll give you a union job. If not for the Irish—God bless them!—half of the people of the country would be without jobs.

There are two other grand opera companies on the east side besides Isaacson's Italian Royal Opera Company, but they don't do such good business as Isaacson. In Isaacson's company there is at least one real Italian who wears a large ring in his ear. Then there is his prima donna, Line Bercrazzini, who is said to be a daughter of Bercovich, the shadchen. But Rosenson, the lawyer, who is acting as her press agent while his wife is in the country, claims that Lina Bercrazzini is a real signorina.

Fried mushrooms? All right, sir. Now I'm going to tell you what happened here the other evening to Katzenellenbogen, the literary and dramatic critic of the Daily Voice. You know Katzenellenbogen. We call him The Customer That Eats Milchige Lockshen for short. Lawyer Rosenson came here on that evening with Signorina Bercrazzini. They had an appointment with Katzenellenbogen, Rosenson told me. But they had to wait a long time.

At last Katzenellenbogen came. He was fresh from the barber's and he wore a long, flowing, bright red necktie. He was in a happy mood and his face was all smiles. He came up right to the table where Lawyer Rosenson and Signorina Bercrazzini were sitting and said:—

"Congratulate me, friends; my wife left for the Catskills late this afternoon. She must be in Tannersville by this time."

"Oh, you men!" said the prima donna of Isaacson's Italian Royal Opera Company, in good Canal street English. "You are always happy when your wives are away. It is a shame, really," and she slapped Katzenellenbogen's back with her glove.

"Don't, girlie," Rosenson warned her, "you mustn't hurt a critic. You have got to be nice to him, otherwise he will not put your picture in his paper."

"Have you got your photo with you?" asked Mr. Katzenellenbogen.

The prima donna handed him a photograph, the kind that actresses take. Katzenellenbogen looked at the photo, then at the signorina. "Why," he said, "Polack didn't do you any justice at all. You are a hundred times prettier than the photo. I don't think any photograph would do you justice. But it is a nice photo after all, and I shall put it in the paper with a sonnet under it. Yes, I'll do that."

"You are very kind, Mr. Katzenellenbogen," the prima donna said.

By that time some of the Kibetzers joined the table where the prima donna was sitting. They were all drinking tea, telling funny stories and passing remarks on Katzenellenbogen's new tie, and that he looked as if he were prepared for a jolly good time.

All of a sudden the telephone began to ring. It was a long distance call for Katzenellenbogen. When he heard it he turned pale and took like a leaf. He asked Bertha, the cashier, to take the message for him, as he was a little hard of hearing, he said. Bertha took the receiver to her ear and everybody was watching her. I felt that some misfortune was coming to Katzenellenbogen. At last Bertha, still holding the telephone in her hand., said to Katzenellenbogen:—

"Your wife is telephoning that by mistake she took the wrong train and went in a different direction. When she came back it was already too late to go to Tannersville. She is at the Weehawken side of the ferry, waiting for you to come and help her with the children, as the two younger ones fell asleep. Will you go? What shall I tell her?"

"He is going! He is going!" the Kibetzers yelled all in one voice. "We suspend him from the Merry Husbands' Club."

Katzenellenbogen looked as if he was struck by lightning. He could hardly get up from his seat. Then he made an effort and ran for the back door. He even forgot to say goodby to the signorina. At the door he beckoned me to come over to him and, taking off his new necktie, he said to me:—

"Joe, you can have this tie, and let me have your old one. Make it quick, for I'm in a hurry to meet my wife."

A civic brawl, Rollo—please do not get excited and cross my thoughts—a civic brawl, showing the various modes of hand-to-hand warfare and the implements used in the conducting of the same. The burly individual with the club in the background, face armored and the great folding shield in the left hand, seems to have come upon the scene prepared to go to any length of aggression or defence. The intrepid citizen in the middle, strangely protected as he is, seems no less bent on vindicating his case. With a weapon of eccentric workmanship in his right hand, he is closely followed by his faithful son, bearing more weapons of the same description, when that shall have proved unavailing. In the foreground members from other clans now appear upon the scene and enter the fray with an alacrity no less admirable.

Letters to a Brother in the City

By BERTON BRALEY

Dear Kid:—

When I had my first interview with the man who gave me a job in New York he asked me where I was from.

"Langdon, Wisconsin," I said.

"That's good," he observed, "that's good. Young man, don't you ever be from anywhere else. Don't ever become a real New Yorker—or a Bohemian. As long as you're from Langdon you'll be some good, but if you get to thinking of the Hudson as the western boundary of civilization, a vigorous barbarian from the other side somewhere will bump you off your pedestal and take your meal ticket away from you. Sheer off from the self-satisfied Gothamite Brahmins and stick around with the colonials. And when you see a Bohemian—pass on the other side."

I never forgot that advice—and whenever I found myself talking fatuously of "little old New York," I'd can it suddenly, go home and look at the map and recall how many million square miles of the United States there are outside of Manhattan. But I did make one trip into Bohemia—one, and that was plenty.

There was an artist of some sort—I found out afterward he was chiefly an artist at pulling father's leg for money—whom I met in a casual night out, and he volunteered to take me to a nice little Bohemian studio for "high jinks" one night. "You'll meet a lot of mighty clever, interesting and congenial people," he promised, "and you'll find atmosphere you can't get elsewhere in New York."

Believe me, son, you wouldn't want atmosphere like that anywhere else in New York. Bohemia is long on atmosphere and short on air. My artist acquaintance led me up six or seven flights of stairs to a room which had apparently been hermetically sealed for seven years. There were anywhere from seventeen to seventy-seven people in there, all smoking cigarettes and throwing the butts and the ashes on the rug—which had never been cleaned—and the smell of incense hung heavy and sickeningly sweet over the whole place.

I sat there for four mortal hours listening to soul talk—and to chatter of "art"—and I remember that I was kissed by five of the women after about four Bohemian cocktails had been imbibed. Their freedom and unconventionality consisted in telling doubtful stories and in saying and doing rude and shocking things, thus proving their release from the fetters of Puritanism, which, I was given to understand, was the ruination of art and the damnation of literature.

There was a lot of babble about expressing one's art without the trammels of morality, and everybody said it was so good to be among such kindred souls where one was understood—far, far away from the crassly commercial and Philistine world which would not buy the badly drawn pictures and the slovenly written stories which had been produced by these Bohemians. I can sum up my impressions better by sending you these verses I clipped out of a newspaper the other day than in any other way:—

They eat off a trunk and they sit on a box;
The floor is all cluttered with fishnets and socks.
They live on spaghetti and red ink and cheese
And talk about "Art" with some unction and ease.
Their hair's never trimmed, and it's seldom they shave;
At "Puritan morals" they sneer and they rave.
They care not to sweep or to scrub or to dust;
They never pay bills till they find that they must.
They go in for fads in their manner of dress;
They revel in dirt and they're fond of a mess.

Of "base money grubbers" they frequently rant,
Referring to artists who "sell"—which they can't.
Yet give them the chance where the cash is the test,
They're just as commercial as all of the rest.
They strut and they swagger, they poise and they pose,
And each has a horn which he constantly blows.
Their minds and their rooms with disorder are rife—
And they call this "Bohemian Life!"

That cured me.

I was under the delusion that all artists lived that way until I grew older and wiser and began to meet a few of the real ones, and I found that they looked and dressed like anybody else and had so little pose about them that they actually were disappointing.

I suppose Bohemia does exist somewhere—a place or a state of mind, perhaps, where people cheerfully make the best of what they have, where they are all workers seeking success, believing in themselves and each other, and happy in each day's achievement and the friendship of sincere spirits.

But that is not the Bohemia you can find in an airless studio crammed with poseurs and humbugs.

I'm writing you this so you'll be prepared for the disillusion you'll experience if you take a fling at the Bohemian stunt. No six foot American, who likes air in his lungs, clean mirth and honest laughter about him will find much joy in Bohemia as it is done in New York, N. Y.

As to the New Yorker stuff, kid, you can carry a cane if you like—it doesn't do any harm and it gives you something to do with your hands—you can wear spats and carry your handkerchief in your cuff, but if you ever slip me any of that "Out-of-New York-you're-only-camping" line of guff, I'll take the first train to the big burg and spank you, if I have to hire a squad of special police to hold you while I do it.

Faithfully, ART.

the greater part of the army will be congregated in the Balkan district, probably near Nish or Kraguyeratz, and another strong force in Novipazar, which will be destined for offensive operations against Bosnia.

According to a Semlin rumor the first encounter between Austria and Servia occurred near Semendria on the Danube, 24 miles southeast of Belgrade. Some vessels convoying Austrian infantry are said to have been fired on from the Servian side of the Danube, and to have returned the fire.

Gen. Radomir P. Nicholas, chief of the Servian general staff, arrested last night near Buda-Pesth, is still a prisoner. He pleaded ignorance that a state of war existed. Four others in civilian clothes, who are believed to be Servian staff officers, were arrested at the same time.

Russia Takes Precautions.

St. Petersburg, July 26.—A decree was promulgated today forbidding the publication for one year of detailed information concerning the army and navy. St. Petersburg and Moscow have been placed under a state of extraordinary protection—a modified form of martial law.

A military censorship order prohibits publication of news relating to mobilization, the calling out of reservists, the movements of superior army and navy officers, voluntary offers of medical aid and even the arrest and sentences imposed upon spies.

Another order prohibits unauthorized aeroplane flights near the German and Austrian borders and fortified places.

Many Servian officers are returning home. The Slavs of Moscow are organizing a great demonstration.

At a meeting of bankers with the director of the National bank presiding, a resolution was adopted today that the financial situation of Russia will enable the present emergency to be met satisfactorily.

The Russian Foreign minister, Sergius Sazonoff, received the German ambassador today, and, it is understood, again informed him that Russia would not be able to remain indifferent if Servian territory were invaded.

Newspapers here are publishing such headlines as "On the Eve of War." "War is Inevitable." All appear to believe that Russia is bound to intervene.

The Novoe Vremya says the only thing which could prevent war would be the personal intervention of the German Emperor.

The Rech announces that the Russian and German Emperors have been in communication, and there is a probability of a favorable issue.

Germany Announces Policy.

Berlin, July 26. — A semi-official statement says Germany has made it known to the European capitals, notably Paris and St. Petersburg, that she regards the conflict between Austria and Servia as the concern of those two States alone.

German endeavors, the statement continued, are being directed towards inducing the other powers to accept that standpoint, so that the peace of Europe may be preserved.

Italy is Optimistic.

Rome, July 26.—Italy has not taken any military measures in connection with the Austro-Servian crisis, in spite of a report to the contrary. At the Ministry of Foreign Affairs an optimistic feeling prevailed today, although the gravity of the situation is realized.

It is said energetic action by Great Britain would decide Italy's course and could avoid a war.

England Rests Easy.

London, July 26.—While other European cabinets were busy today discussing the crisis, Premier Asquith and Sir Edward Grey, secretary of state for foreign affairs, were at their country places. The King has cancelled his engagements for the Cowes Regatta and other sporting affairs.

The Austrian ambassador issued an official notice stating that the Austrian government has ordered partial mobilization of the army and calling on all Austrians in Great Britain liable to service to present themselves at the consulate where they wil receive traveling expenses home.

The notice says: "Amnesty will be extended to all deserters and evaders fo military service who return voluntarily."

A Semlin dispatch says that after the removal of the Servian court from Belgrade all business houses shut down and there was an exodus of families. Bellgrade presented a picture of the greatest confusion. A panic broke out among the inhabitants on rumors of the imminent entry of the Austrian's.

Austrians Active Here.

Manchester, Mass., July 26.—Dr. Constantin Theodor Dumba, ambassador from Austria-Hungary to the United States, who is at his summer home here today instructed consuls in this country to reserve on order all Austro-Hungary reservists to return to their country in the event war is declared.

"I am not executing official notice" he said, "that war has been declared. When it comes I shall order a general mobilization of all my countrymen up to the age of 42 in the United States for their return to Austria. I think there are about 200,000 Austrians and Hungarians in the United States.'

WARM WEATHER PREDICTED

Weather Forecasters Have Little Mercy on Sweltering Country.

Washington, July 26.—Prediction for warm clear weather was the forecast tonight by the Weather Bureau for the next few days.

"The next distirbance to cross the country" said the bureau report, "will appear in the far west Monday or Tuesday and move eastward, crossing the great central valleys Wednesday or Thursday and the eastern States near the end of the week. This disturbance will be attended by local showers thunderstorms and cooler weather. There are no indications at this time of a disturbance in the West Indies."

TEXAS DEFEATS PROHIBITION.

Anti-Prohibitionist Candidate for Governor Elected by Big Majority.

Dallas, Tex., July 26.—Prohibition was defeated in yesterday's State Democratic primary, according to additional returns today. James E. Ferguson, the "anti" candidate, for the nomination for Governor, increased his lead to 20,000 over Thomas H. Ball, the Prohibition candidate. The returns indicate a final majority for Ferguson of about 30,000.

The resolution to have a State Constitutional Prohibition amendment election was running behind tonight with prospects that final figures would show its defeat by about 10,000.

Richmond, Va., July 26.—Dr. W. J. Young, pastor of Centenary Methodist Episcopal Church, South, tonight announced his acceptance of a place on the faculty of the church's new university at Atlanta.

cratis hope to keep the legislative wheels running rapidly. Saturday afternoon the Democrats could not muster a quorum but they laid it to the hot weather and week end parties, and resolved not to let it happen again.

To Take Decisive Steps.

The coming week probably will see some decisive steps taken to fill the Federal Reserve Board. President Wilson is expected to name a western or middle-western man in place of Thomas D. Jones of Chicago and the uncertainty regarding Paul M. Warburg of New York, aslo wil be cleared up. Most administration Senators believe that Mr. Warburg will eliminate himself, and that the President already is considering men to name in his place. Seth Low and A. Burton Hepburn the latter the president of the Chase National Bank are said to be under consideration.

George E. Roberts, director of the mint and W. T. Fenton, president of the Chicago Clearing House Association, are still discussed among the probabilities in place of Mr. Jones. Senator Owen, chairman of the banking and currency committee, is expected home from Europe tomorrow to confer with the President over the situation.

This Week in The House.

The Adamson general dam bill, the Lever anti-cotton futures bill conference report, readjustment of the system of paying railroads for carrying the mails and conference reports on the general deficiency and sundry civil appropriation bills are before the House this week.

The railroad pay bill, on which action will be urged as quickly as possible, would provide for payment of railroads on a basis of car space and mileage insted of on weight of mails, as at present. It is designed to effect a general reorganization of the present methods and would give $62,000,000 a year in total pay to the railroads, against $55,000,000 now.

There is renewed talk of the House committee on judiciary voting on the case of Judge Emory F. Speer, of Georgia, this week, possibly Tuesday. The investigation committee report that they have found no cause for Judge Speers removal.

GONERNMENT TO AID IN MOVING OF CROPS

of greatly improved business conditions and enlarged business activities. The concensus of opinion of the bankers is that it will be of great benefit to the crop movement and to business generally if the Secretary will deposit government funds in the leading cities.

"National banks in many cities indicated their desire for crop moving deposits and government funds will be deposited with them aggregating approximately four million dollars.

Among others the list includes: Baltimore, Charlotte, Greensboro and Wilmington, N. C.; Charleston, Columbia, Greenville and Spartanburg, S. C.

"Interest at the rate of two per cent. per annum will be charged," the statement says, "and the government will accept as security government bonds at par; State, municipal, railroad and other bonds, acceptable to the Secretary, at 75 per cent. of their market value; approved commercial paper, acceptable to the Secretary at 75 per cent. of its face value. The Secretary will not require, as he did last year, that ten per cent. of the deposits shall be secured by government bonds.

"Particular consideration will be given to the willingness of the banks receiving government deposits to lend to their country correspondent banks at reasonable rates of interest.

"The Secretary is prepared to begin the distribution of funds after the necessary requirements have been complied with."

The Secretary said, should it become necessary to deposit more than $84,000,000 to meet the needs of the country, he will not hesitate to do so.

ral and a private were wounded. The volunteers also used their rifles as clubs. The soldiers fired and used their bayonets, inflicting many cuts. Then they had a running fight with the volunteers and the rapidly-growing mob through the streets to their barracks. A number of policemen have been suspended for refusing to try to disarm the volunteers.

The Lord Mayor has issued a letter of protest, declaring the troops were ordered out without his permission and he demands that the responsibility shall be fixed for the calling out of the soldiers and for supplying them with ball cartridges. He adds:

"Dublin and Ireland look with confidence to John Redmond and his colleagues to bring to justice those responsible for this shocking outrage. There must no longer be one law for one section of the Ulster people and another law for the remainder of the Irish people."

MEN REMOVE THEIR COATS

Ladies of Brooklyn Baptist Church Vote to Leave Them at Home.

Realizing that it is little less than torture for men to have to sit in a church for a hour when it is as warm as it was in Wilmington last night with their coats on, the ladies of the congregation of Brooklyn Baptist church unanimously voted yesterday morning that they would consider it no improprity if the men removed their coats during the night service. Last evening quite a number availed themselves of the privilege allowed them and removed their coats during the service. That they enjoyed it the more and got more good from it by having this measure of comfort goes without saying.

Rev. David Herring, a missionary to China, who is spending a year in this country, made an address on his work in the Far East. In a clear simple way without affectation he told something of the wonderful transformation that is taking place in that country.

Following his talk, which was brief, Mrs. Herring spoke most interestingly of her work among the Chinese women. She sang a song in Chinese which was heard with great interest. It was a most inspiring service.

Charlottesville, Va., July 26. — Rev. W. Aiken Smart, pastor of the First Methodist church here today announced that he had accepted an offer of the chair of Biblical Literature in the University to be established in Atlanta by the Methodist Episcopal Church.

CARRANZA AGAINST A FORMAL AMNESTY YET

Carbajal's surrender be unconditional. There still is hope that a middle ground will be reached in the coming peace conferences by which the question will be adjusted peacefuly though there are misgivings as to Carranza's intention.

R. Cepeda, advance peace delegate from the Carbajal government, was due today in Tampico, where Carranza now is. Two other delegates, whose names have not yet been announced, will go soon to Saltillo where Carranza has suggested that the parleys take place.

Peace Delegates Named.

Mexico City, July 26.—President Carbajal today decided on General Lauro Villar, chief of the supreme tribunals of military and justice and judge David Guiterrez Allende, of the Supreme Court as the Mexican governments representatives to the Saltillo peace conference. They will leave for Saltillo tomorrow.

General Villar is expected to be acceptable to the Constitutionalists. He commanded the troops at the National Palace when it was atacked by Generals Bernado Rayes and Felix Diaz, and was severely wounded. He has not been in politics during the Huerta-regime.

Judge Allende is not connected with any political party.

The utmost optimism characterizes official and diplomatic circles and there is reason to believe the exchanges between Carbajal and Carranza already have resulted in a general understanding of details which will be worked out this week by their representatives.

Both the foreign and Mexican population feel assured Carranza will meet the terms proposed by Carbajal for the complete surrender of the government.

Life in the capitol is entirely normal, and the number of refugees returning here from Vera Cruze is increasing daily. There is no evidence of any anti-American feeling among the Mexicans.

Minister of War Velasco reported tonight that the troops operating against Zapata received instructions today to abandon defensive tactics and to take the offensive.

FUNERAL OF MR. WM. A. MARTIN THIS AFTERNOON

Services From Residence at 5 P. M.—Interment in Oakdale.

The funeral of Mr. Wm. A. Martin, an account of whose death is given in another column, will be conducted from his late residence, No. 520 Dock street, this afternoon at 5 o'clock. The services will be conducted by Rev. Dr. Wm. H. Milton, rector of St. James' Episcopal church. The interment will be in Oakdale cemetery.

The burial will be with Masonic honors, Mr. Martin having been for years a prominent member of this fraternity.

Marriage Last Evening.

At the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. A. T. Merritt, No. 705 North Third street, Mr. Doran A. Boon and Miss Battie E. Merritt, both of this city, were happily married last evening at 9:30 o'clock. The ceremony was performed in the presence of a few friends by Rev. J. A. Sullivan, pastor of Brooklyn Baptist church. Both young people have many friends who will extend congratulations. The groom is employed by the Atlantic Coast Line.

ORIENT LODGE.

Members of Orient Lodge, No. 395, A. F. & A. M., are hereby notified to meet at the Lodge room, Masonic Temple, at 4 P. M., Monday, July 27th, to attend the funeral of Brother W. A. Martin. Members of other lodges and visiting brothers are cordially invited to be present.

By order of the Worshipful Master.
C. C. BROWN,
Secretary.

And they asked me how I did it, and
I gave 'em the Scripture text,
"You keep your light so shining a Little in front o' the next!"
They copied all they could follow,
But they couldn't copy my mind,
And I left 'em sweating and stealing
A year and a half behind.
—Kipling.
